ASSASSIN'S STREAM OF BULLETS MISSES ROOSEVELT BUT FELLS MAYOR CERMAK AND 4 OTHERS AT MIAMI

Senate Will Vote On Repeal Paper This Afternoon

Wets Near Goal of Years' Striving After Day of Democratic Successes in Revision of Resolution To Kill Amendment.

U. S. SALOON CHECK IS BEATEN, 33 TO 32

State Decisions by Conventions Rather Than Legislatures Approved,
45 to 15.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)— Strategy and votes tonight placed senate anti-prohibitionists within reach of a goal toward which they have striven for years, a vote on removing the eighteenth amendment from the constitution.

By unanimous agreement the chamber will vote tomorrow at 3 o'clock on the Blaine repeal resolution, modified to stipulate ratification by state conventions, rather than by legislatures, and stripped of a section which would have authorized congress to legislate against the return of the saloon.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic floor leader, led the fight for these changes in the measure, but capitulated on another change that he and others seeking to bring the Blaine measure into conformity with the democratic platform want night to "simplify the controversy," he withdrew an amendment which would have removed also a provision intended to protect dry states from liquor importations. After the balloting and oratory were over for the night, he predicted that the repealer as it now stands would command a two-thirds majority necessary for adoption.

He also expressed the opinion the house would accept the measure as now drawn. If it does not do so, it will require only a few days for the new congress at the coming extra session to adopt it.

The drys were making no predictions. Their filibuster, which carried through the afternoon and evening yesterday, had wilted in the face of a threat to keep the senate in continuous session until a vote was reached.

A recapitulation of the three roll calls had during the senate's eight and a half-hour session showed:

The motion of Senator Blaine, repealing the eighteenth amendment, was

Man, Lying on Tracks, Killed by Trolley Car

Noble J. Dickerson, 38, an unemployed man living at 496 Pasley street, was instantly killed Wednesday night when he was struck by an outboard trolley car on Fair street.

Dickerson, according to police reports, was lying between the rails of the company's private right-of-way about 100 feet east of Fair street when a car operated by C. G. Barnett ran over him and mangled his body.

The operator of the street car was held blameless.

Dickerson's body was turned over to Blanchard Brothers for funeral arrangements.

$3 AUTO LICENSE APPEARS DOOMED AS BILL IS TABLED

Talmadge, Still Hoping for Favorable Action, Calmly Accepts Senate's Defeat of Plan.

By L. A. FARRELL.
All hope of Georgia obtaining a $3 automobile license tag for 1933 appeared doomed Wednesday night.
There also seemed little chance of any new tag law being adopted, the senate having won what looks to be the final round of its long battle with the house and Governor Eugene Talmadge.

The $3 tag bill has been placed in the limbo of the senate—tabled. There it was put Wednesday by a vote of 33 to 14. The house has likewise persistently refused to compromise and the action of the senate Wednesday was taken to indicate that there will be no new tag bill adopted at this session unless an agreement is reached between the warring factions and the senate takes the bill from the table.

Unless something is done to bring about enactment of the bill, the tag measure will lie on the table forever and the 1932 tag prices will be operative for 1933.

Accepts Defeat Calmly.
Governor Talmadge, who has been strongly urged to use his executive authority in an effort to force through the $3 tag measure, calmly accepted defeat of his plan.

"The tabling does not mean the end of the bill by any means," the governor said. "My understanding of the table program is that a legislative body tables a bill when it has something more important to take up. The senate now is considering a bill regarding narcotics and it certainly is important that we reduce illegal trafficking in drugs."

Supporters of the governor continued to urge him to issue a statement saying that if the $3 tag bill is not enacted he will let the people know he will use his executive powers to pardon anyone who ignores the law and continues use of the 1932 tag.

The motion to table the bill was made by Senator Colson, of Brunswick, who was named chairman of the "anti-$3 tag bloc" at a meeting of that group Tuesday night.

"The tag bill has reached the point where it is fraying tempers," the senator said. "It ought to be tabled to relieve further tension."

Vote on Tabling.

bill:

Carl Lancaster Given Parole by Talmadge

Carl Lancaster, former Atlanta lawyer, who was sentenced to a 10 to 20-year sentence at the state prison farm for an attack on a young woman who was employed as a stenographer in his office, was given a parole Wednesday by Governor Eugene Talmadge.

Lancaster was convicted in March, 1929, and had served approximately four years of the sentence.

The parole was recommended by the state prison commission last November but was not passed upon by Governor Russell. The application for executive clemency was renewed Wednesday by Judge J. R. Renda, Terrell, of Greenville, and Stonewall J. Dyer, of Newnan, attorneys for Lancaster.

Lancaster, under Georgia laws, will be able to practice his profession in the state.

'Family Rights' of Insulls Bared by Senate Probers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—
The senate dug into the ruins of the great Insull family empire for the first time today, unearthing a contract which members of the utility magnate's family might have made a fortune and prepared to question Daniel D. Young and Charles G. Dawes tomorrow.

From Samuel Insull Jr., whose father now a fugitive in Greece, the senate's banking committee learned that members of the family were permitted by the contract in question to buy stocks in an Insull investment trust for $25,000,000 less than their market price. The "paper profits," young Insull said, were never realized.

Young appeared in the committee room today, said he was there under subpoena, nonchalantly lit a pipe and listened to the testimony from a rear seat. He was one of a long list of "favored customers," as revealed by recreational proceedings in Chicago, to whom the elder Insull sold stocks
at advantageous prices.

Meanwhile, at a federal trade commission inquiry, Examiner Carl H.
Dupue described what he termed the "practice" of the Insull family in forming companies, selling stock from one to the other of these companies, setting up the stock at fictitious values, and offering the resulting inflated shares to the public throughout America, Canada and Europe.

The committee room was crowded as young Insull testified, but only a few senators attended.

FARM PLAN DROPS CONTROL FEATURE QUICK FARM AID

All But Wheat and Cotton Eliminated From Allotment Bill in Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—
Pruned and trimmed until it bore only slight resemblance to its former bulky self, the domestic allotment plan for farm relief emerged from a committee room today and headed toward the senate floor.

The measure, passed by the house on January 12, had been shorn, among other things, of provisions for acreage control, described by farm organization leaders as vital.

It still retained, however, the same fundamental principle—tax on the "processor" in order to pay the farmer
a bounty on the share of his goods consumed in this country, but it applied to only two commodities—wheat and cotton.

Out went all provisions for applying the benefits of the measure to the producers of hogs, tobacco, dairy products, rice and peanuts.

Even more drastic was the outright elimination of the entire section requiring that farmers reduce their production by 20 per cent in order to qualify for the benefit payments provided.

This section has been described as the heart of the bill by President Edward A. O'Neal, of the American Farm Bureau Federation and other agricultural leaders who backed the bill but have objected vigorously to the sweeping revisions made in the senate committee room.

The action today carried it to the senate calendar where its legislative fate already has been decided. A Hoover veto of the measure—if it should pass—has been predicted in informed quarters.

Two other major farm relief proposals already have been favorably reported to the senate and at least one will probably be given preference over the allotment bill. This is the

Rail Chiefs Inclined To Accept Recommendations Advanced By Transportation Committee

By FRANK H. McCONNELL.
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The report of the national transportation committee, diagnosing the ills and prescribing cures for the entire transportation industry of the country, was carefully studied today by leaders in that industry, several of whom said they liked its general conclusions.

A number of railroad men, investment bankers, savings bankers and others appeared in general agreement that the task had been handled in fairness to all parties figuring in the highly competitive transportation field.

Most railroad men, including Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, excused themselves from a formal statement, explaining that they had just received copies of the report.

But a number of others, some of them informally, set forth their belief that the conclusions of the committee would do a lot to clarify the transportation situation, by presenting it to the public in correlated form.

"I considered the report eminently fair, considering the territory which the committee had to cover," said J.
M. Davis, president of the Delaware,
Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company. "One point that I take exception to is the suggestion for a national system. I believe in the principle of personal service for the shipping that is possible under the competitive system. It is impossible to provide this if the railroads are consolidated into a single system."

Several other railroad executives and railroad bankers expressed in formally a similar viewpoint. Some felt that railroad opposition might develop in the way of the committee's proposal, which would be of value not only to the savings banks but to the whole country. We are glad the plan has been brought forward and believe it is workable.

"A valuable contribution to the solution of the railroad problem" was the description given by Philip A.
Benson, president of the Dime Savings Bank.

GUNMAN ENDS LIFE AS MOTHER BALKS EXTORTION PLOT

Lone Thug Outwitted by Banker's Wife Following Threat To Kill Daughter, 11.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—(AP)—
Thwarted in an attempt to extort $15,000 from R. Crosby Kemper, president of the City Bank Trust Co., under threat of killing his 11-year-old daughter, an armed man shot and fatally wounded himself at the banker's home here last night.

In a room where he was found dying after police had rescued the threatened child, Sally Ann Kemper, officers found a hastily scribbled note which read: "Good-by, mother, I can't stand to see you hungry."

The man who attempted to execute the daring plot single-handed was identified by police fingerprint experts as W. K. Lattin, or William Layton, who had been arrested at Hutchinson, Kan., on a charge of transporting liquor in January, 1931.

The demand for money was made to Mrs. Kemper, who entered her home after Lattin had forced his way in and compelled a negro servant girl to telephone Mr. Kemper, that his daughter was dangerously ill.

"Mrs. Kemper, give me $15,000 or I will kill your little girl," the intruder declared, pointing a revolver at the banker's wife.

Mrs. Kemper attempted to placate her assailant to gain time. She remarked that he must be in desperate circumstances, and assured him she and her husband would aid him.

Lattin threatened to shoot the mother if she made a "false move." He instructed her to answer the door bell when Mr. Kemper arrived, under further threats.

Meanwhile Ann Wilde, the nurse, forced into an upstairs bedroom with the child, had telephoned police. She he was found, a moment later unconscious. He died shortly after reaching a hospital.

Merchants To Accept New Issue of City Scrip

Immediate absorption of the $300-000 scrip issue to meet December salaries of 4,000 municipal employees was assured Wednesday as various merchants completed preparations to cash it and accept it as payment on account.

The scrip was begun late Wednesday afternoon and will be completed this morning.

Colonel F. J. Paxson, president of Davison-Paxon Company, announced that the same spirit that prompted the store to "cash the previous issue of scrip for the convenience of city employees would be followed with the new issue, which the Davison-Paxon company will be glad to accept on exactly the same terms that the previous issue was handled.

"We will cash it out right, accept it as payment on bills or in exchange for merchandise in any amount. We have the money to cash it."

J. P. Allen: "We will accept it in exchange for merchandise or as payment on bills."

Regenstein's: "We will accept it as payment for purchases or on accounts up to $5,000."

Italian Blames Huge Crowd For Failure To Reach Mark

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15.—(UP)— Joe Zingara, 33, Italian brick-layer, admitted he purchased the gun with which he attempted to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt here tonight, police announced shortly before midnight.

Zingara also told police he attempted to assassinate King Emmanuel, of Italy, 10 years ago, police said.

"When I read in the Miami newspapers that Roosevelt was coming to Miami, I bought with $8 a gun with which to kill him," Zingara was quoted as having told police.

"I got to the scene early but the crowd was too big for me to get near the platform."

"I meant to shoot him while he was talking, but the crowd was in my way and I am a short man."

"I have always hated the rich and powerful and I hoped tonight that I would have better luck than I did 10 years ago when in Italy I purchased the pistol with which to kill King Emmanuel."

COLOMBIA SEVERS PERUVIAN TIES

Both Countries Claim Victories in Initial Leticia Encounters.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 15.—(AP)—
The Colombian government today delivered the passports of the personnel of the Peruvian legation and the coat of arms of Peru immediately was taken down from the legation building, precipitating a demonstration by street crowds.

(By diplomatic usage the delivery of passports to the representatives of a foreign nation is the equivalent of breaking off diplomatic relations between the two governments involved.)

Return of the passports came shortly after hostilities were opened between the forces of Colombia and Peru in the region of Leticia on the upper Amazon. Since September 1, 1932, when Peruvian nationals seized Leticia, the two nations have been in conflict over the border territory.

News from the front told of the capture by Colombian troops of the town of Tarampa, a port on the Putu-mayo river about 80 miles north of Leticia. The Putumayo runs into the Amazon to the east of Leticia and Tarampa.

"Our flag floats on the hills of Tarampa, captured in battle by the artillery supported by planes," said a message received by President Olaya Herrera from General Alfredo Vasquez Cobo, the Colombian commander in charge of the troops.

Congratulations. All's well."

The general informed the president that strong entrenchments were found near Tarampa Hill after the occupation. He reported that his men captured six .75 Krupp guns, eight machine guns and numerous machine guns, as well as a store of ammunition.

A cabinet minister said the possession of Tarampa insured to Colombia control of the whole Putumayo river.
The disputed area extends from the Amazon to the east of Leticia and Tarampa.

WIFE OF ATLANTAN DEFLECTS 5TH SHOT

Mrs. W. F. Cross Strikes Man's Arm as Other Atlantans Watch; Brodnax Seizes Gunman.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)
An attempt to assassinate President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt was made here tonight by a gunman who fired a stream of bullets into the Roosevelt party, seriously wounding Anton Cermak, mayor of Chicago, and four other persons.

"I'm all right," shouted Mr.
Roosevelt immediately after the shooting, as he waved his arms to show the crowd he escaped the bullets.

A man, who said he was Joe Zingara, of New York city, was surrounded by citizens and police took him to jail.

"I kill presidents, kill officers,"
the would-be assassin said.

While the excitement was at fever heat the president-elect held Mayor Cermak's head with a circling arm, holding the Chicagoan close to his side as the automobile sped to a hospital. Cermak was shot in the chest.

Zingara's five wild shots also hit
Mrs. Joe Gill, of Miami; William Sinnot, of Miami; Russell Caldwell, a boy, and Miss Margaret Krus, of Newark, N. J.

The bullet that struck Cermak pierced his body, coming out his back, and little hope was held for his life. Mrs. Gill also was badly hurt.
The others were not so seriously wounded.

Mrs. W. F. Cross, of Miami, wife of a former Atlanta physician and a cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mc-Crary, of Atlanta, struck the shooter's arm as he let go with the fifth shot and moved his elbow into the air.
Mrs. McCrary was within three feet of the gunman and saw every shot fired.

Associated Press Staff Writer Eyewitness to Cermak Shooting

By REX SAFFER.
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Joe Zingara, the man who tried to kill Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight, shot his pistol in vain five times over my left shoulder. The powder burns are on the left shoulder of my coat.

The bullets of the would-be assassin struck innocent bystanders—Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago; Mrs. Joe H. Gill, wife of a Florida utility executive; Bill Sinnott, a New York policeman; Miss Margaret Krus, of Newark, N. J., and Russell Caldwell, 22, of Miami.

Tony Cermak has been my friend since he was chairman of the Cook county commission in Chicago in 1921. The hospital says he probably will die.

The others I did not know. I did not know they were shot.

But back in the ante-room of the

FLORIDA OFFICIALS ASKED TO ARREST CHICAGO MOBSTER

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker, informed of the shooting of Mayor Cermak, immediately asked Florida officials to take into custody 18 Chicagoans reported to be there.

Twelve of those named by Schoemaker are reputed associates of Capone gang leaders.

Acting on the possibility that Cermak, rather than President-elect Roosevelt, was the target of the would-be assassin, Schoemaker ordered police squad cars to make a general pick-up of railroad running trains to Florida were asked to furnish lists of Chicagoans who have bought tickets there during recent weeks.

A last search of police records failed to reveal any trace of Joe Zingara, the name given by the man captured at Miami.

Roosevelt's Family Receives News Without Hysterics

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A white-faced, nervous household on East 65th street heard the news of Franklin D. Roosevelt's escape from a volley of shots at Miami without hysterics tonight.

The president-elect's butler, Reynolds, got the first call from a newspaper.

He turned to Mr. Roosevelt's daughter, Mrs. Anna Curtis Dall, and said, "Your father's been shot at five times."

By the time Mrs. Roosevelt arrived, reporters were there with the tidings that the president-elect had not been hit. Mrs. Dall went to the door and gave her mother the brief facts available at that time.

Mrs. Roosevelt, her face blanched and her hands trembling, walked into the room and sat on the edge of a chair.

"Phew," she said.

Louis Howe, the president-elect's confidential secretary, was telling reporters: "Mr. Roosevelt's mail has been especially free of any crank mail or threats of any kind."

"I seriously doubt," Howe said, "whether the bullets were meant for Mr. Roosevelt. He is not the type of man who would be the target of such an assault."

James A. Farley, democratic national chairman, also said he thought the

Three Presidents Slain by Assassins

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Three American presidents met death at the hands of assassins. A lunatic attempted to kill President Theodore Roosevelt on September 1, 1903. Abraham Lincoln was shot by J. Wilkes Booth in a Washington theater on April 14, 1865.

President Garfield was shot by Charles J. Guiteau in a Washington railway station on July 2, 1881.

President McKinley, on September 6, 1901, was assassinated by Leon Czolgosz while attending the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo.

Mayor William J. Gaynor, of New York, was badly wounded by an assassin's bullet aboard a steamer in New York harbor August 9, 1910.

The wounding of Mayor Cermak, of Chicago, recalls that on October 28, 1893, Carter H. Harrison, then mayor of Chicago, was assassinated.

There have been many attempts on the lives of European rulers, but comparatively few on American political leaders. William Goebel, governor of Kentucky, was killed on January 30, 1900. Frank Steiengaber, former governor of Idaho, was slain in December, 1905.

Among other assassinations of world-famous leaders are: Emperor Alexander II, of Russia, in 1881; King Humbert, I, of Italy, in 1900; King George, of Greece, in 1913; Archduke Francis Ferdinand, of Austria-Hungary, in 1914.

Atlanta Man Recalls Attempt To Assassinate 'T.R.' in Milwaukee

News of the attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt's party at Miami Wednesday night recalled vividly to the memory of George Kitzinger, of the Piedmont hotel, former newspaperman, an attempt on the life of Theodore Roosevelt when he was seeking re-election on the Bull Moose party ticket in 1912.

Although a previous attempt had been made on the exponent of the "Big Stick" when he was president in 1903, Mr. Kitzinger, who was directing publicity for the Bull Moose party when Roosevelt ran against Taft and Woodrow Wilson, was present in Milwaukee on October 14, 1912, when an insane man named Schrank fired on Roosevelt as he was leaving the Gratiot hotel for the Milwaukee auditorium, where he was scheduled to deliver an address.

Wednesday night Mr. Kitzinger recalled that he had been close to the automobile in which Theodore Roosevelt was seated himself, when Schrank, about a dozen feet away, fired pointblank at the former president. The bullet struck Roosevelt in the right breast, embedding against a rib, and he carried the slug until his death.

Mr. Kitzinger said Roosevelt's first words were to a friend seated alongside him in the open automobile.

DO HEADACHES DRIVE YOU CRAZY?

It's the worst kind of folly to dope and drug yourself every time you have one of those blinding, throbbing headaches. For drugs only relieve the pain for the moment, and in a little while the headache returns worse than ever and you have to drug yourself all over again. You've got to get at the cause.

Poisons created in your own body cause these severe headaches, and you must remove the poisons to get relief of a lasting nature.

By starting the new harmless Cream of Nujol treatment, today, you may free yourself from this constant torment.

This new form of Nujol is specially designed to rid you of poisons which very often cause this condition.

Cream of Nujol contains no drugs, and does not in any way interfere with work or play. It is delicious to take. Moreover, you can use this modern treatment at a cost of but a few cents a day.

Take Cream of Nujol night and morning. Begin this very night and give it a real trial. Buy it at any drug counter.

Zingara came here by bus two months ago. He came from New York city but has been making his home in Hackensack.

"I would not shoot a working man or a policeman," Zingara continued.

"It is the rich and powerful I hate. As a child I had to work hard in the field. And when I was 16 I had to go to war. Life has been bad for me."

The Italian brickmaker was stripped of all his clothes as he reached the jail and his clothing thoroughly searched.

Rogue's gallery pictures were taken of him clad only in his underwear. Later even that bit of clothing was taken from him.

When news syndicate photographers attempted to take his picture as he stood nude in his cell, Zingara demanded a shirt which he held in front of him.

dent Machado tonight sent the following cablegram to President-elect Roosevelt at Miami:

"Deeply shocked by attempt upon your life, which I imagine the deed of an insane person. Beg to convey to you my heartiest congratulations upon your escape."

"Kindest personal regards."

"GERARDO MACHADO."

"President of the Republic of Cuba."

THIS MAN Knows HOW TO END DANDRUFF, GROW YOUR HAIR

A BOTTLE of tonic can't tell you which of the 14 local scalp disorders (responsible for 92% of all baldness) is causing your hair loss. It takes more than a perfumed mixture of quinine and alcohol to determine your exact difficulty. It takes complete, accurate knowledge of all hair and scalp conditions. Only a skilled scalp specialist—a man who has made an intensive study of hair and scalp disorders (not a barber or beautician who gives "scalp treatments" as a side line) can find out precisely what must be done in order to halt your loss of hair and re-grow your hair.

Thomas specialists know the symptoms of the 14 local causes of hair loss and know how each must be treated. They know exactly how to end the various forms of dandruff, how to stop falling hair and how to re-grow hair. Thomas treatment is accurate, reliable, sure. Thomas makes no charge for a complete scalp examination. Come in today and learn the truth about your hair and scalp from a Thomas specialist.

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

The messenger boy said he heard Mr. Roosevelt say:

"I am all right."

Immediate orders were issued for doubling the secret service guard about the president-elect.

Mr. Roosevelt plans to return to the hospital tomorrow morning and then depart for New York by train.

The shooting turned a day of happiness for Roosevelt into one of tragedy.

Only three hours before he had cruised into port here on the Astor yacht, tanned and jovial from his fishing cruise.

While deeply moved by the incident, he was untroubled. He showed no excitement as his car sped away from the scene.

The incident occurred about 9:45 p. m. The Roosevelt train had been scheduled to leave at 10 p. m.

The president-elect preferred to make no statement on the incident. Joe Murphy, assistant chief of the United States secret service, was here and took over the examination of Zingara.

He made no comment but police believed Zingara was acting individually. No other arrests had been made late tonight.

A huge crowd waited until after 11 o'clock for Mr. Roosevelt to return to the train. The station is just across the street from the jail where the prisoner was undergoing a grilling. The crowd dispersed when it became known that Roosevelt was not leaving. Police precautions were redoubled tonight but there was no sign of further trouble.

"I am sore at government," Zingara is reported to have said, "because as a kid I had to work instead of going to school, and I am sick now because I had to work."

"I am a member of no party. I believe that bolshevism is all right. I have done my own thinking, and I reached this decision by myself."

Mr. Roosevelt had just sat down in the back seat of his car after speaking when the firing opened. Mayor Gauntier, of Miami, was beside him.

As the shooting began screams and shouts resounded.

"Stop that man—lynch him—don't let him kill Roosevelt," were heard.

GUARD IS DOUBLED AROUND WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The secret service detail assigned to protect the life of President-elect Roosevelt immediately was doubled tonight upon receipt of word here of apparent attempt to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt.

President Hoover later issued a statement saying he was "deeply shocked" by news that shots had been fired at President-elect Roosevelt.

He described the incident as a "dastardly act." Mr. Hoover also sent a telegram to the president-elect rejoicing at his escape and asking for the condition of Mayor Cermak.

In his telegram to Roosevelt, President Hoover said:

"Together with every citizen I rejoice that you have not been injured. I shall be grateful to you for news of Mayor Cermak's condition."

The national capital was stunned tonight when word flashed through that an attempt had been made on the life of the president-elect.

The executive mansion was quiet at the time of the attempted assassination and although lights still burned on the lower floor the president had retired to his own room after sitting for a while alone. Earlier in the evening he had conferred with Secretary Mills.

Theodore Joslin, secretary to the chief executive, expressed shock when the word was related to him, and he attempted immediately to reach Mr. Hoover. The White House under, all ways on duty during the president's waking hours, had left for the night.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Governor Dave Sholtz, who came here tonight to join the Roosevelt party tomorrow, kept in constant touch with the situation in Miami following the shooting in Bay Front park.

The governor said Sheriff Dan Hardie, of Dade county, told him the gunman's name was Joe Zingara, of Hackensack, N. J., and that he was a member of the Patterson, N. J., bricklayers union.

The sheriff described Zingara as a man little more than five feet tall and weighing about 105 pounds.

The governor said the sheriff's office and the department of justice agents with whom he talked over the telephone referred to the man as "just a red from Hackensack, who said he was against everything."

CERMAK'S PHYSICIAN PLANS FLIGHT TO MIAMI SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Dr. Frank J. Jirka, son-in-law and personal physician of Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, tonight made arrangements to charter an airplane for an immediate flight to Miami, Fla., where Cermak was wounded tonight.

HIGH COURT DENIES RETRIAL FOR AIKEN

Atlantan Faces Death in Chair for Double Slaying Here in 1929.

Sam F. Aiken, condemned slayer of his wife and Boyce Hunter, Wednesday was denied an extraordinary motion for a new trial by the state supreme court. His lawyers immediately announced that they would ask for a rehearing on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Aiken was convicted in 1929. He killed his wife and Hunter in the Aiken home on Cooper street. The state contended that Aiken had placed his wife and Hunter together in order to kill them both. Aiken pleaded the "unwritten law."

After his case had been upheld by the supreme court, Aiken, with Fred Fair, sawed his way out of the Fulton tower and was at liberty for two years. He was captured last year at Houston, Texas, where he had married again and was living under an assumed name.

MISSISSIPPI TAX PLAN DISCUSSED BY CONNER

The sales tax inaugurated in Mississippi less than a year ago has provided a "painless remedy" for the state's financial ills, Governor Sennett (Mike) Conner, of that state, told the Georgia legislature assembled in joint session Wednesday afternoon.

The Mississippi executive said that those who had so bitterly opposed the tax were now among its warmest supporters.

"The tax provides the widest possible base and remedies the ills inflicted by the property taxation," Governor Conner said. "It costs the citizens of Mississippi an average of 9.7 cents a month and is paid as they go. It does not accumulate and become burdensome."

The governor outlined a four-point system of taxation which he said he hopes to establish in Mississippi.

The program includes first the sales tax, second a tax on possessions, paid by those whose property is protected by the government; third a tax on net income, and fourth a tax on privilege, to be paid by those obtaining franchises or other grants from the state.

"There is no doubt but that the sales tax has served the purpose for which it was enacted in Mississippi," Governor Conner said. "It has been successful also in Pennsylvania, where it was enacted as a relief measure, and I feel sure that it will be enacted in Illinois."

The tax has increased the state's revenue 25 per cent in Mississippi, the governor said.

Governor Conner is to address a joint session of the Illinois legislature at Springfield next week.

Governor Eugene Talmadge, appeared on the speaker's platform with Governor Conner and introduced him to the legislature. Governor Conner was met at the Terminal station by Adjutant General Lindley Camp and at the door of the capitol by a special committee of the senate and house of representatives. The Mississippi governor departed for Jackson early Wednesday night.

On the Air Today

Ruth Etting will interpret the homey melody, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," during her Clasterfield recital at 8 o'clock tonight on the WGST-Columbia network. Leonard Hayton's orchestra also will feature a symphonic arrangement of "Underneath the Stars." The singer will open with "My River Home" closing with "Linger a Little Longer in the Twilight."

Barium Brown, curator of fossil reptiles for the American Museum of Natural History, will be the speaker in the museum's program over the WGST-Columbia network from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m. today.

Colonel Stoopnagle and Budd will further the cause of "Stoopnocracy" as the comedy highlight of the Pontiac broadcast from Carnegie Hall over the WGST-Columbia network tonight at 8:30 o'clock. In addition, William O'Neal will sing "Just So You'll Remember" and "Dancing in the Dark" from "The Big Show," while Jeanne Lang will sing "There's a Little Salt on the Bluebird's Tail."

Betty Bartlett, supported by Fred Berrans' orchestra, has selected "You're an Old Smoothie" as the song feature of her program today at 5:30 p. m. on the WGST-CBS network. Miss Bartlett will also sing "Hats Off, Here Comes a Lady," "Street of Dreams" and "Buy American."

Mozart's "Jupiter" symphony will be featured by Howard Barlow and the Columbia Symphony orchestra, tonight from 10 to 10:30 o'clock. The third and fourth movements, Minuet Allegretto, and Molto allegro, will be heard.

Something unusual in harmonies and "hot-cha" will be offered over the WGST-Columbia network tonight at 9:30 o'clock, when the Bowell Sisters and Fred Berrans' orchestra join forces before the microphone. The popular trio will offer "I've Got the World on a String," "Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?" and "Baby." As a special solo offering, Connie Bowell will sing Morton Downey's theme melody, "Remember Me."

Music descriptive of Greece will be played in Dorothy Gordon's music class of the American School of the Air over the WGST-Columbia network from 1:30 to 2 o'clock, this afternoon. The second part of the period will be devoted to another of Hughes Mearns' "Stories of Youth and Power." This one will be titled "The Boy Who Told Himself What to Do."

Directors said, Wells is general counsel for the bank.

Bullitt, Mystery American Abroad, Proves Only a Man Writing a Book

By MORRIS WATSON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—William C. Bullitt came back to America today and answered the question: "Who is Bullitt?" He's a man writing a book.

Envoy extraordinary? Representative of the president-elect? Pre-tender at either? None of those things—just a man writing a book on "Statesmanship."

At first he was reluctant to say anything. He was handed a number of clippings, news stories printed in America during his sojourn in Europe.

One clipping carried the name of Senator Arthur R. Robinson, republican, of Indiana. He looked at it and asked suddenly: "Who is this Senator Robinson?"

Adding, as if to answer his own question: "I never heard of him."

As he read he laughed, chuckled and broke out every now and then with a "nonsensical," a "ridiculous" or just a "silly."

"All news to me," he announced.

"The first I knew of this ridiculous rumor," he continued, "was in Vienna when an American newspaperman telephoned me and said I was being accused in America of being up to some nefarious business. I told him I certainly was because I was having lunch with 'Red' (Sinclair) Lewis."

He went on: "This trip I made to Europe is the same trip I have been making every year for the past 10 years. I have a great many friends in Europe, and a man certainly has a right to call on his friends."

"As a matter of fact, I've been representing only myself."

The Finnish state of railways have contracted for 30,000 tons of Northumberland coal. Timber is to be exchanged for the coal.

About Raising Strong, Rugged Children

Help Nature provide your child with strong bones, sound teeth and straight, sturdy legs.

MOTHERS... We never inserted an advertisement that carried a more important message than this—a message that challenges the interest of every mother and expectant mother in this community. It concerns the proper development of children. It deals only in scientific facts which any doctor, dentist or public health official can verify.

In the laboratories of Columbia University there has been developed a remarkable "Vitamin D" concentrate known as the Zucker-Columbia University concentrate which, when incorporated in whole milk, gives the health-promoting, bone-developing (anti-rachitic) qualities of cod liver oil—in fact, actually gives the child the natural "Vitamin D" of cod liver oil without the fishy taste and smell.

As the exclusive licensee of the patented Zucker-Columbia University process in this territory, we are proud to offer for the first time in Atlanta "VITAMIN D" MILK containing the natural "Vitamin D" extracted directly from cod liver oil; thus combining these two vital necessities for child health and growth—pure, rich, fresh milk and the "Vitamin D" of pure cod liver oil.

U. S. Medal of Honor Awarded to Hobson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The man who sank the collier Merrimac in Santiago harbor during the Spanish-American war in a futile effort to bottle up the enemy fleet—Richmond Pearson Hobson—Tuesday gained the right to wear a congressional medal of honor as President Hoover signed an act to that effect.

Hobson, who resigned from the navy in 1903 after an exciting career which included being held prisoner in a Spanish fortress, later served for seven years as Representative Hobson of Alabama, and more recently has interested himself in the narcotic problem.

Carolina Farmers Plan To Defeat Depression

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Taking the depression "by the horns" so to speak, farmers of the McClellenville section, this county, have organized to produce enough to supply their own needs and have a surplus to sell.

At the organization meeting plans were made for conducting demonstrations to determine the most efficient and profitable way to grow different crops. The farmers will work with the Clemson College extension service and use the results of its experiments.

The demonstrations organized include projects in production of Irish potatoes, corn, cabbage, sweet potatoes, rice, poultry and possibly hogs.

ORCHARDISTS TO GET FEDERAL SEED LOANS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Officials of the federal seed loan fund today informed Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, that a decision has been reached to permit loans on an acreage basis to growers of apples, peaches and pears in connection with their new crop operations.

Both Senator George and Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, have been urging the seed loan bureau for some time to extend its loan facilities to orchardists.

While no definite announcement was made as to the amount of the loan to be made to fruit growers the suggestion has been made that it be in the neighborhood of $20 an acre.

The decision of the bureau was announced in the following letter to Senator George from D. O. McVay, national director of the seed loan fund:

"In reply to your letter of February 9, I am pleased to advise that 1932 seed loan fund for 1933, on an acreage basis for peaches, apples and pears.

"Because of the amount of the funds made available by congress, and the estimated increase in applications for these funds, it was decided to require an acreage reduction under the authority granted by the congress. The maximum amount to be loaned to individuals was therefore reduced. Other agencies are available for the use of commercial producers.

"I note your suggestion that the loans be made to the landlords engaged in cotton farming. This plan used in 1932 was to make individual loans to the growers. It was generally satisfactory and will be followed again for 1933. Landlords with adequate security have available other agencies from which they may obtain a loan for the purpose of crop production. It is desired to assume the full responsibility.

FORMER BOOKKEEPER ADMITS HOLDUP FAKE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Detective Inspector Will T. Griffin announced this afternoon that Sidney M. Bird, 22-year-old former bookkeeper of the Columbiana (Ala.) Savings bank, had made a written confession to taking a $16,500 holdup of the bank November 15.

Griffin also said that Bird revealed the hiding place of most of the money.

Bird confessed less than an hour after Memphis and Birmingham police had recovered $3,800 in United States government bonds that Bird had placed in a safety deposit box of a Memphis bank.

EASTERN AIR ACQUIRES LUDINGTON AIRLINES

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(UPI)—Assets used in the operation of Ludington Airlines between New York and Washington have been acquired by Eastern Air Transport, Inc. it was announced today.

The purchasing company, a subsidiary of North American Aviation, Inc., operates a mail and passenger service between New York and Miami and is one of the largest of the contract air mail operators.

Ludington Airlines has been operating for two and a half years, carrying passengers and express between here and Washington on frequent schedules.

BET GROWERS SEEK HIGHER SUGAR TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—An increase in sugar tariffs to permit expansion of sugar beet growing in the middle west was urged today before the tariff commission.

Fred L. Crawford, of Saginaw, Mich., vice president of the Michigan Sugar Company which owns factories in Michigan and Ohio, said that beets provided the only crop on which farmers of his state obtained a "fair return" in 1932.

OUNCE, Half of Cotton Pays Interest on Cents

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Solving the problem of paying interest on 7 cents, E. P. H. Roberts, Muskogee county farmer, Tuesday sent the St. Louis seed loan office an ounce and a half of cotton, valued on the basis of spot quotations at 41.3 mills, the amount of interest due.

Roberts got a letter from the office, informing him the 7 cents plus 5 per cent interest was due on a 1932 loan. He put it up to his banker, who computed the interest, but Roberts still was stumped about the method of payment until a cotton man came to his rescue.

So Roberts neatly packed the 7 cents in the proper amount of cotton and sent it along.

TESTIMONY CLOSED IN GUY SLAYING TRIAL

Wanderwell Murder Case To Be Placed in Hands of Jury Today.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Testimony was closed today in the trial of William J. Guy, adventurer, for the murder of Captain Walter Wanderwell aboard the mystery yacht Carina at the harbor here last December 5.

Shortly before the closing of testimony, the defendant made a dramatic plea to his counsel to be permitted to go back on the witness stand and tell the jury why he hid out in Los Angeles after he knew of the killing.

He said he wanted to tell them he was afraid the police would question him for being in the country illegally. His attorneys told him that a second appearance on the witness stand would be unnecessary.

Arguments were started late today with indications the case would be placed in the hands of the jury tomorrow.

30-Degree Weather Predicted for Today

A 27-degree drop in temperature will reach Atlanta this morning, with sub-freezing temperatures due in the early morning hours, George Mindling, United States meteorologist, forecast Wednesday.

Following a cloudy and colder night Wednesday, the mercury should stand at 30 degrees this morning, he said, but today will probably be fair with the mercury climbing to about 50 for the day's highest. The indications Wednesday were that the cold will not last and that Friday will be warmer.

The mercury stood at 63 degrees at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning and was the highest recorded for the day. At 7 a. m. the mercury had dropped to 55 and by 9 a. m. it had risen to 57 degrees. The drop then started and kept sliding slowly down until at 4 p. m. it was at 41 degrees and headed for the 30 degrees predicted for this morning. The entire southeastern section of America was blanketed in rainy weather Wednesday.

RULING IMPERILS CINCINNATI LAWS OF PAST SIX YEARS

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Every city ordinance passed within the last six years may be thrown into the discard as invalid.

The possibility arose from the action of Municipal Judge Samuel W. Bell in freeing an accused speeder because the ordinance under which he was arrested was published only in the City Bulletin.

The state supreme court recently upheld a taxpayer's protest that a sewer assessment was invalid because the ordinance was not published in a "newspaper of general circulation," as required by law. It ruled the City Bulletin, established May 3, 1927, was not such a publication.

Judge Bell said he would sustain under that ruling motions to quash charges brought under city ordinances published only in the Bulletin.

City officials, admittedly nonplussed, today studied the situation for a quick remedy.

Louis B. Blakemore, clerk of council, said he believed it would be necessary to re-enact the 1928 city code of ordinances and all subsequent amendments as an emergency measure and arrange for printing them in a newspaper.

Church Group Affirms Minister's Expulsion

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Affirmation of the expulsion of Arthur J. Winn, former Danville (Va.) pastor, after a church court conviction on charges of "familiarly with women of his congregation" was announced here last night by Bishop W. F. McMurry, chairman of the committee of appeals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The case of R. L. Shipman, former pastor of a Norfolk, Va., church, Bishop McMurry announced, was ordered remanded for a new trial on grounds his expulsion after a church court conviction of a charge of drinking egg nog at the home of a steward was regarded as "excessive penalty."

HIGH COURT AFFIRMS DEATH SENTENCES OF 2

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—The supreme court late today affirmed the death sentences of J. W. Buchanan and Elvin E. Jeffcoat, who had challenged the constitutionality of the state electrocution law designating the superintendent of the state prison as legal executioner.

The court held that the prison superintendent is the duly authorized executioner with power to name a deputy to act in case of his absence. The court's action ended litigation of several years by which Buchanan and several other convicted slayers sought to escape the electric chair.

$20,000 BOND POSTED BY JOSEPH I. REECE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Bond of $20,000 was posted today by Joseph I. Reece, former Tennessee commissioner of insurance and banking charged with larceny of $100,000 of bonds, fraudulent breach of trust and conspiracy and was released from the county jail at 4 p. m.

The bond was signed by a brother, J. E. Reece, of Grayville, Tenn., and Samuel R. Hall, Nashville grocer.

BANKS URGED TO AID EXPANSION PROGRAM

Senator Thomas Serves 'Demands' on Twelve New Yorkers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, today wrote 12 New York bankers, demanding that they change their policies and lend assistance to a "sincere, honest and reasonable program of currency expansion."

"After months of effort here," the Oklahoma said, "we are forced to appeal from an impotent congress and a short-sighted administration to you, a higher power, to stop forcing the retreat and to, at once, give the order to advance."

Farmer Quits Lands, Asks Poorhouse Entry

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 15.—(UP)—Isom Gardner, 75, unable to pay taxes from the rent and sale of crops from the 240-acre farm on which he has a lifetime trust, has applied for admission to the county poorhouse, offering to give to the state all rents after taxes are paid.

Desmond Is Installed As Louisiana Bishop

ALEXANDRIA, La., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Attended by 11 bishops, 12 monsignors and 100 clergymen of lesser rank, the Rev. Daniel F. Desmond, until recently a parish priest of Somerville, Mass., today received the episcopal ring from Archbishop John W. Shaw, of New Orleans, metropolitan of the Louisiana province, formally installing him as Catholic bishop of Alexandria with jurisdiction over the north Louisiana parishes.

The impressive ceremonies were conducted in St. Francis Xavier cathedral, where the papal bull elevating Bishop Desmond to the head of the see was read. The sermon was delivered by the Most Rev. John R. Peterson, bishop of Manchester, N. H.

Bishop Desmond, a former war chaplain, succeeds the late Bishop Cornelius Van De Ven.

LYNCH WILL RESIGN NEW YORK POSITION

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Thomas M. Lynch, of Poughkeepsie, resigned as president of the New York state tax commission about March 1, presumably to take a position under the presidential administration of his close friend, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Many of Mr. Roosevelt's friends believe Lynch will be named collector of the port of New York.

Georgia Auto Tags, Vintage of 1910, Cost $2 Each in All Classifications

Search of old Georgia law books back to the original automobile tag legislation of 1910, when the horseless carriage first became of sufficient importance for registration, revealed Wednesday, in connection with the senate's action in tabling the $2 tag bill, that automobile tags in Georgia originally cost $2 each for any make or size of car.

From the first motor vehicle bill in 1910, the cost of tags has slowly but surely gone up until today the minimum price is $11.25 and the top price close to $35, depending on weight.

In 1913, the legislature increased the price from $2 to $5 for each vehicle, and, in 1915, the first bill classifying cars and providing for a graduated scale was passed. This act provided for a charge of $3 on cars not exceeding 25 horsepower, $4 on cars between 25 and 40 horsepower, and $5 on cars of more than 40 horsepower.

The 1915 motor vehicle act fixed another scale which has developed by amendments to the motor tag charges of today.

The 1910 motor tag act, incidentally, contained the requirement that a "person operating a machine shall, at request or on signal by putting up the hand or other sign of distress of a person riding, leading or driving a restive horse, bring such machine immediately to a stop, and if traveling in the opposite direction remain stationary so long as may be reasonable to allow such horse or animal to pass." On request, motorists were required to stop the motors of the cars to insure the safety of others when meeting horse-drawn vehicles.

BUS WEIGHT LIMIT GOES TO COMMITTEE

Legislation proposing to limit gross weight of motor vehicles on Georgia highways to 10,000 pounds Wednesday afternoon was referred to a subcommittee of the highway committee of the senate following a public hearing at which bus men charged that the bill would legislate them out of business and railroad men asked passage of the measure in the interests of the public.

Members of the subcommittee appointed by Senator N. P. Guilford, chairman, are: Senators J. R. Pottle, of Albany, 10th; F. Andrews, of Roberta, 22d; Pat Hargison, of Blairsville, 20th; W. H. Key, of Monticello, 28th, and Hugo A. Carithers, of Winder, 27th. The subcommittee is to report back to the whole committee at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Charles Redwine, of Fayetteville, speaking for the bus men, referred to the bill as "the rankiest kind of class legislation, designed to annihilate competition and enrich coffers of the railroads by continuing their ruinous rates."

Smythe Gambrell, attorney for bus and truck interests, said that the bill would outlaw every first-class bus and commercial truck now operating in the state, ruling out $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 worth of equipment. Tom Brumby, of Marietta, chair manufacturer and president of the Georgia Manufacturers Association, and Goodloe Xancy, president of the Atlanta Motor Club, also opposed the bill.

W. L. Stanley, vice president of the Seaboard Air Line railway, asked "whether you are going to build roads for the truck, or require trucks to fit the roads." Mr. Stanley said that less than 1 per cent of the motor traffic weighs over 10,000 pounds to the vehicle, and that railroads, spending $8,000,000 in Georgia last year on roadbeds, are competing with a subsidized form of transportation.

John B. Gamble, of Athens, representing the railroads, presented a number of exhibits tending to show that damage to highways depends on weight of the vehicle.

ANOTHER PROGRAM TO HELP CHILDREN ON RADIO TONIGHT

Georgia citizens will be invited by an all-star radio program over WGST to contribute to the support of abandoned children in the state again from 7:30 to 8 o'clock tonight, with Hal Voorhis, of the executive board of the Georgia Children's Service Society, delivering the principal address. Julian Boehm and Chick Wilson will act as masters of ceremony.

The broadcast will be the third of a series to continue through Saturday night over WGST. In the initial program given Tuesday night, a total of $25.50 was subscribed by the following: Mrs. Henry Jerome, $1; W. H. Holbrook, $2.50; Mrs. W. J. Martin, $1; Miss Hildebrand, $1; Mrs. Comer Woodward, $5; Margaret Jackson, $5; W. T. Thomas, $5, and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Watson, $5.

Mrs. R. K. Rambo, chairman of the executive board of the society, will speak on another all-star program from 8:30 to 9 o'clock Friday night, and Professor Comer Woodward, of Emory University, will deliver the final radio appeal at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night. Several of Atlanta's most popular radio stars will furnish the entertainment on the broadcasts.

COST OF GOVERNMENT HIT BY HUGH HOWELL

The high cost of government is doing more than anything else to strangle initiative and progress, Hugh Howell, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, told the Masonic Club at its luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Wincoff hotel.

"Up to the time of the Civil War the national government spent less by $3,000,000 than the state of Georgia now does in a year," Mr. Howell said. "The state government's overhead expense has increased 250 per cent in ten years."

"Not only the state, but the city and county governments each showed its stupendous increase in cost of operation—the city 100 per cent, the county 100 per cent in ten years. The national government increased the unbelievable figure of 650 per cent since 1910."

"One-fourth of the income of every citizen goes to taxes," Mr. Howell said.

RULING SEEN TODAY ON LOAN INJUNCTION

A ruling on whether the county loan for $1,982,000 can be restrained or not is expected to be handed down this morning by Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy in Fulton superior court following argument of the case Wednesday.

The Atlanta Distributing Terminal, Inc., is seeking to restrain the county from borrowing the amount on the ground that Reconstruction Finance Corporation money is being treated as income, on which the loan is based; that all loans made in 1932 must be repaid before new loans are made; that the R. F. C. money is a loan which has not been repaid, and that the county is planning to use the money to pay back debts with the loan, which the plaintiff alleges is unconstitutional.

DAVISON'S TO GIVE RADIO PROGRAM

An entertainment program including a special radio broadcast will be given today in the Davison-Paxon basement as a part of the benefit day program announced by officials of the store.

The radio broadcast through WGST will begin at 11:30 o'clock and continue until noon, with Chick Wilson as master of ceremonies. There will be other acts.

The Camera Saw This

CARNERA LANDING RABBIT PUNCHES ON SCHAAF.

New York's boxing commission seems to be indicted of at least one offense in the Carnera-Schaaf fight which had its tragic denouement the death of Ernie Schaaf.

While it seems fairly well established that Carnera's knock-out blow, a left jab, did not cause Schaaf's death, and that previous injury probably contributed to it, this fact remains:

Pictures show, and are substantiated by charges of boxing reporters, that Billy Cavanaugh, the referee, warned Carnera numerous times about striking illegal blows, the rabbit punch or clubbing on the back of the neck with the forearm, another form of the illegal punch. The pictures show all this.

Carnera paid no attention to the warnings. The referee, one of the smallest in New York, was physically unable to break clinches. Why was he assigned to the battle of giants? Carnera was permitted to get away with, so to speak, illegal tactics.

GOLF IS A HUMBLING GAME.

It's too bad, really, that Colonel Jake Ruppert couldn't have been present when George Herman (Babe) Ruth was eliminated from that golf tournament in Florida by a 61-year-old man.

The Babe, depressed and contrite, would have signed that reduced contract in jig-time.

Because the Babe must be wondering, now, if all the scribes and Pharisees were not right in hinting that age was catching up with him. Golf, as has been said before, is "an 'umbling game," and the Babe knows it now.

THE DAY'S BEST GAG.

A pedestrian, for whom there are no protecting game laws, stepped off the curb in front of the Piedmont and barely dodged a heavy car which swung past at a furious rate of speed.

"Gosh," he said, "I thought that guy Malcolm Campbell was in Florida."

CHICAGO BREEZES.

Bill Kaliska, who helps out with the pause that refreshes, returned to Atlanta recently from Chicago. He was there during the recent blizzard, which made Atlanta's blizzard seem like a warm spring day.

"When I stepped from the train that morning," said Kaliska, "I thought to myself, 'Kaliska, you must have left off your trousers.' It was so cold I thought my legs were bare. The trousers were on, all right, but if I'd had a hole in them I'd have caught pneumonia.

Kaliska, after his Chicago experience, is wearing linen suits in Atlanta.

TWO BLOCKS OF WHITE WAY.

Henry Weber arrived at the auditorium Tuesday night for the wrestling match scheduled under his sponsorship, and found the section about the auditorium as dark as a kidnaper's heart. The city had shut off lights all over the city to save expenses.

Weber did not want his patrons to suffer any accident to themselves or their cars. He called the power company and within 10 minutes, after guaranteeing the bill, the white way lights were blazing about the auditorium, the only splotch of color in the city.

Weber's ability as a promoter surpasses that of any Atlanta has had. The secret of it is, that he never neglects his customers.

REAL GAME TONIGHT.

The Y. M. C. A. Triangles, who won the independent basketball championship of the south by twice defeating the Chattanooga Dynamos this season, tonight go up against the Fort Wayne Hoosiers, who claim the world's championship by right of defeating the Cleveland Celtics in seven out of eleven games last season. The Triangles deserve a great deal of credit and the support of Atlanta sportsmen. The game, to be played at the city auditorium, will be well worth seeing. And don't overlook the fact that a team capable of defeating the Dynamos twice in one season is very apt to win in any competition.

THE OLD FENCE JUMPER.

Mr. Jeff Kelly, the Columbus Romeo, writes that he is quitting Hot Springs, where he went to have all the disappointments of the 1932 football season boiled out, and wants them to add two rails to all the fences in Georgia. "I would be ashamed to jump the ordinary rail fence," he declares.

Five P. C. Players Dropped by Coach

CLINTON, S. C., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Five Presbyterian College basketball players, four of them first-stringers, were dropped from the squad today for breaking training rules. Coach Lonnie McMillan announced. Those dropped are Adam Nettles and Ferguson, forwards; Ross, a center, and Bobbs, a guard.

Corbett Reported As Resting Better

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—James J. Corbett, former heavyweight boxing champion who is seriously ill with a heart ailment, passed the most comfortable night he has had since he was taken seriously ill over two weeks ago and as a consequence was considerably improved today. His physician, however, does not believe his strength can hold out much longer.

HOOSIERS PLAY 'Y' TRIANGLES HERE TONIGHT

Two Preliminary Games Open Program at Auditorium at 6:30.

By Jack Troy.

The Fort Wayne Hoosiers, who won 7 out of 11 games from the Roanoke Celtics last season, tonight play the Y. M. C. A. Triangles, independent champions of the south, at the city auditorium.

There will be two preliminary games tonight. The first will bring together the J. P. C. Reds and College Park at 6:30. A girl's game will follow. Music will be furnished by the Tech High school band.

The Hoosiers appeared in an exhibition scrimmage with the Georgia Tech freshman yesterday afternoon at the Atlanta Athletic Club, and while they showed a few of the finer points of the game, they promised a great deal more in regular competition.

Many prep players gathered at the A. C. for the exhibition and watched the faulterless Hoosiers toy with the freshmen. Had they really attempted to put on the pressure, the Hoosiers would have kept the ball all afternoon.

GO IN SPURTS.

As it was, they took things easy and put on a sensational spurt now and then. And the prep players, picking up pointers, realized there would be much to learn from the play of the Hoosiers in action.

The visit of the Fort Wayne team has revived that famous old line—"Who's yer little Whosit?" It didn't take much investigation to discover the Hoosier's little Whosit. He is Henry Borgmann—Fifteen Points Borgmann—one of the greatest forwards in the game.

Borgmann is also a star baseball player and at the present is among the holdouts on the Rochester club. Horse Myers, who derived his nickname about four years ago when a friend, noting his ever-present grin, tagged him "horseface," is Borgmann's running mate.

Silent Al Kellett, one of the better-than-six-foot members of the team, is a great center, while Captain Hank Shimek and Lefty Kintzing play the guards.

Hank Kowalczyk is the utility player of the team. He usually goes in at center for Kellett.

GREAT TEAM.

It's a great combination—this Hoosier team—and they are as tricky as the Celtics. The Hoosiers have the reputation of being a greater scoring team than the Celtics.

Borgmann is the leading scorer, while Kellett follows closely. Kintzing is a pivot man regarded in the middle west as the equal of Dutch Dehnert of the Celtics, while Borgmann is conceded to be a greater forward than Dave Banks. Borgmann and Banks are about the same size, small but very potent.

The Hoosiers yesterday recalled the days when Harry Mehre, fresh out of Notre Dame, played with the Knights of Columbus team of Fort Wayne against his home town, Huntington, team.

Mehre, the boys said, was a very tough back guard, hard to get around and invincible when it came to taking the ball off the backboard. He was a Shimek played with "where on the K. of C. team and again expressed the wish that Mehre would be over for the Celtics' game. "I'd like to tell over old times with Harry. Those were great days. Competition between Huntington and Fort Wayne was really terrific."

TRIANGLES READY.

Captain Joe McCrory's Triangles are ready for the game. The Triangles, twice winners over the Chattanooga Dynamos this season, are conceded to have an excellent chance to win.

They will take the floor with Oscar Brock, Johnny Phillips, and Harry Ted Rains at center, and McCrory and Reader at guards.

The Triangles have extended their string of victories to 26, and hope to keep it unbroken against the Hoosiers. It will be a real task but one not without hope.

Lawrenceville High defeated Grayson 41-28.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Feb. 15.—The Fort Wayne Hoosiers thrilled more than 1,000 spectators with their exhibition of court legerdemain, to night in defeating the Grayson A. C. five, 41 to 28.

Horse Myers and Hank Shimek scored 12 points each to lead the Hoosiers. Harry Mehre, who was highly praised by the Fort Wayne players, scored 16 points to lead the evening's scoring.

Cain Drops Out Of Georgia Tech

Tom Cain, who played his last season as a tackle for Georgia Tech's football team last fall, has dropped out of school and will leave soon for his home in Dallas, Texas, he announced yesterday.

Cain, whose marriage was announced while he was on the trip to California with the rest of the Tech squad, had planned to remain at Tech through the spring term and get his degree, but he grew homesick for his wife out in Texas and decided yesterday that he would go home.

Tom was one of the most popular athletes ever to enter Tech. He came from Dallas. Father Lumpkin's home city, a fullback but was changed over into a tackle by Coach W. A. Alexander the following year. He took part in most of last season's games at left tackle, dividing time with Bob Thorpe.

Appling Signs With White Sox

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Two more White Sox signed contracts for 1933. President Louis Comiskey announced today. Luke Appling, infielder, and Joe Eving, right-handed hurler obtained from Indianapolis, returned their signed documents.

SHARKEY FIGHT PLANS PUSHED DESPITE BOARD

Farley in Favor of Proposed Bout; Muldoon Says No.

By Edward J. Neil,

Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Threatened with legislative extinction, boxing hurried itself today by pushing over a championship bout between Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera, banned yesterday by the New York state athletic commission following the death of Ernie Schaaf.

While William Muldoon and General John J. Phelan, the two members of the commission who suddenly received the "super-dreadnaught" class as an excuse for limiting Carnera's opposition, stood fast in their resolve, a break from within was indicated by the opposition of James A. Farley, chairman of the commission.

Farley, head of the national democratic committee as well, could not spare time from political discussions today to issue a statement. He was represented, however, as in favor of a bout between Sharkey and Carnera, scheduled here for June until Schaaf died yesterday, apparently from injuries received last Friday night when he was knocked out by Carnera.

At the same time Jimmy Johnston, head of boxing at the Garden, declared he would continue preparations for the match until definitely ordered otherwise by the commission. He said this way, inasmuch as preparations had been made before Schaaf's death.

The bout probably will be staged in Boston, in conjunction with the Boston garden, if the restriction is not lifted here.

While Sharkey, brushing aside the commission's threat, hurried through New York on route to Boston from Miami, State Senator Harry G. Schackno, Bronx democrat, introduced a resolution at Albany to abolish the boxing commission and was promised enough votes by the republican opposition to assure passage in the upper house.

Assemblyman Saul Streit, New York democrat, introduced a resolution for the investigation of boxing and wrestling, and Senator George Blumberg, of Brooklyn, asked for a law that would bar boys above the light heavyweight class where a weight difference of 40 pounds or more existed, and on lower classes where the difference was 18 pounds or more.

Governor Lehman's request for an investigation of Schaaf's death had not been received at the commission today. The commission has closed its own investigation, finding that its rules were adhered to in every detail, and all concerned were absolved. A similar result followed the investigation by the district attorney's office. These reports probably will be forwarded to the governor.

Stopping only a short time here in his hurry, Sharkey, who was in Boston for the funeral of his friend Ernie Schaaf, was uninterested in the ban on his title match with Carnera.

"I don't care," he exclaimed angrily, "that doesn't matter."

He said that eventually he had planned to retire, and devote all his time to managing Schaaf into the heavyweight title.

"Go Home, Primo,"

Bingo Brown Says.

BRISBANE, Mich., Feb. 15.—(UP)—James M. "Bingo" Brown, president of the National Boxing Association, today said that Primo Carnera should "go back to his mother country, Italy for awhile."

Brown expressed regret at the incident, but claimed Carnera was in no way to blame.

"Carnera was doing his best," Brown continued. "He can't be held to blame. He is extreme in size and for that reason the public may be soured on him for awhile as a result of Schaaf's death. It would be best if Carnera went back to Italy for awhile."

Brown expressed confidence that Max Schmeling would have defeated Carnera if he had been his opponent. He said that Schmeling was "the best fighter in the world."

Beck Sends Carey Signed Contract

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The signed contract of Walter Beck, sensational young pitcher from Memphis, upon whom Manager Max Carey is banking heavily, was received today by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Beck won 27 games and lost only 6 with the Southern association team last year for the best record of the year in organized baseball.

In discussing his plans for 1933 Carey recently said he planned to start Beck as one of his four regular pitchers and expected him to deliver.

BOWLING

Not only is Nick Tronky a world's champion bowler, but he has added much additional color to the duckpin game and his playing personality has gone a long way toward making him popular.

Tronky's rise to the top in the bowling world reads like fiction from one of Horatio Alger's novels. Eight years ago Frank Barber, then the manager of a bowling alley in Connecticut, called a young man from the stands and asked if he would like to fill in and bowl on a team that was short a man. Nick replied in the affirmative and started on the road to success by turning in three ace scores, and his form showed the making of a real bowler. Barber took the youngster in hand and coached him and offered much advice that Tronky will tell for years to come.

At present Tronky is manager of the Lucky Strike bowling alley in Wilmamette, Connecticut.

Reaching the peak this season he set three new world's records, he will give local fans a good display of pin-spitting.

"Hello, Folks!"

GEORGIA COLEMAN.

Georgia Coleman Here Praises Florida Girl

Says Katherine Rawls Greatest Woman Swimmer; Likes Louisa Robert's Chances.

By Ralph McGill.

Miss Georgia Coleman, one of the world's feminine athletic prodigies, stepped from a plane at Candler field Wednesday afternoon minus the coat of her attractive suit.

She looked a bit startled as the cold, biting wind of a Georgia twilight struck her, and appealed hurriedly for her coat to cover the silk blouse.

She was a marvelously trim figure as she stood there, the silk blouse falling to her splendid slope of her broad shoulders.

The young lady, who has not been defeated since she started her career as a springboard diver in 1928; the holder of national and Olympic titles, is on her way to California, where she will officially become a professional, appearing in a swimming act with Mickey Riley, well-known swimmer.

She was rather pleased at the prospect of seeing Louisa Robert, Atlanta girl who was on the Olympic swimming team last year. She thinks that if Louisa works "like the dickens" she will be able to become a national champion here.

But Miss Coleman went into feminine ecstasy about Katherine Rawls, the 15-year-old girl from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

"She is the greatest swimmer in the world right now," said Miss Coleman. Her eyes flashed and she smiled in wonder, as her memory took her back to some of the Florida girl's performances. "Honestly, it is almost impossible to imagine what a wonder she is. There isn't any woman or girl in the world who can beat her at the medley. She will be greater than Helene Madison. She beats them all at the 880, the 440 and the medley. She will lower Eleanor Holm's backstroke records. She isn't a coming champion. She's already there."

Miss Coleman, whose own very remarkable record of no defeats, should not be overlooked, thinks American girls will always dominate in swimming. The impetus of success will provide the urge to other girls to continue the work.

Asked how Miss Rawls and other champions developed their ability, Miss Coleman declared that she was sure it was just a natural something—the difference between a champion and one who is almost a champion. "I suppose one might simply say it is a gift," she said.

SMILES AT MILIT. She liked the plane trip from Florida, is delighted at the prospects of the trip to Texas by plane today and the night plane ride to Los Angeles, which will put her in that city Friday morning for breakfast. She bestowed a smile on Milt Saul, the airways captain, who had the venerable Milt hopping about like a two-year-old.

Miss Coleman, I think, would photograph better in the movies than the other swimming stars who have entered the cinema trials. She, however, is to begin in vaudeville. It seems to me she was doing some tumbling in a gym one day and a swimmer told her she ought to be a good diver. She tried it and has never been defeated. It must be a gift.

Sheehan Given Smoky Release

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Jack Sheehan, second baseman with the Knoxville Smokies last season, has been released by Manager Tommy Taylor.

It seems that he was doing some tumbling in a gym one day and a swimmer told her she ought to be a good diver. She tried it and has never been defeated. It must be a gift.

TECH DEFEATS AUBURN, 29-20; POOLE STARS

First Half Lead Enables Jackets to Win Fifth Game.

AUBURN, Feb. 14.—A nine-point lead obtained in the opening half enabled the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets to win a 29-20 win over Auburn for their fifth Southeastern conference triumph of the season against a similar number of losses.

At half-time, 19-7, the Jackets' display a superb brand of basketball until the last half.

Woodard drew first blood for Tech when he shot a snowbird. A field goal and foul shot by Orr ran Tech's advantage to five points before Jenkins dribbled in for a field goal for Auburn. McMahon shot another goal for the Tigers and Jenkins made good a charity throw to tie the count, 5-5.

With the count tied, Poole capped a pretty one from the sideline, which started the Engineers off on their victory march.

Tech was leading, 12-5, before McMahon made another two-pointer for the Plainsmen after Jenkins had tied the score.

The losers battled the Jackets on even terms in the second half with five field goals and three fouls.

Tech's rangy quintet scored six field goals and one foul in the last period. It was Tech's fifth conference victory against as many losses.

Johnny Poole was Tech's shining light on the offense. Roy McArthur and Poole also stood out defensively for the winners. Captain Slick Kaler played a wonderful defensive game for the Plainsmen.

FAVORITES WIN IN TUCKER MEET

By Roy White.

TUCKER, Ga., Feb. 15.—With no upsets to mark Wednesday night's play, the final four games in the first round of the annual Dixie district basketball championship tournament will be played Thursday night, starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Decatur High, winner of its third successive Georgia Interscholastic conference crown, defeated Druid Hills, 28 to 19; Fulton High defeated Marietta, 29 to 14; Avondale defeated Conyers, 26 to 15, in the four games in the opening Wednesday night.

Commercial High, the defending champion, plays North Fulton; Tucker, the host, plays Southwest Dekalb; Stone Mountain meets Lithonia, and University School meets Russell in the Thursday night games to complete the first round.

Chamblee and Conyers provided the closest game of the evening night and not until the fourth quarter did Chamblee pull out in front to win. The score was tied at the first quarter. At the half, Chamblee was leading, 17 to 12, as the fourth quarter began.

James Moore, young brother of Virgil Moore Jr., of the Georgia University of Wesleyan with 14 points, which was largely responsible for Fulton's 29-14 victory over Marietta in the first round.

Thirteen residents of Southeastern Group Meet at Lexington

KENTUCKY FIVE REAL FAVORITE IN S. E. TOURNNEY

Coach Rupp Believes His Team One of Best in Years.

Coach Adolph Rupp believes his Kentucky team may win the Southeastern conference basketball tournament here next week, but says it's too much of a gamble to worry about. Kentucky has entered five quintets in the tournaments for the past three years, but each time its favored teams have been beaten in upsets. Rupp thinks his 1933 edition is the best he's had and hopes it will be able to override the jinx of past seasons.

"We really do not take the tournament seriously. We make a good schedule and try to win all of our regular season games. I think we have a good chance at the tournament but have not given much thought to it," he says.

The addition of Bill Davis, a 135-pound sophomore guard, has strengthened Kentucky. "He is a wonderful defensive man," Rupp commented. In 17 games Davis held his rivals scoreless in nine contests and allowed but 28 points in the other eight. He tallied 121 points.

Darrell Darby, one of the best forwards a year ago, has been off form this season and, as a result, Rupp has alternated Forest Sale, the All-Southern center of 1932, between forward and center.

Rupp has such an able squad that he can slip in a reserve to replace some lagging veteran without lessening the offensive power of his club and this has aided Kentucky several times this season.

"Sale has been a marked man all year. He hasn't scored as much as last season but I believe in the pinch he has been as good as a year ago," Rupp says.

The defensive improvement shown by De Moisy, the crack forward, also has helped to make Kentucky a better club than in 1932 in Rupp's opinion.

The Kentucky mentor ranks Ohio State, Alabama, Vanderbilt and South Carolina as the best teams he has faced. Among individual players he rates Colburn, of Ohio State, and Freddie Tompkins, of South Carolina, forwards; Hoskit, of Ohio State, center, and Kelly, of Creighton, and Scroggins, of Vanderbilt, as the best.

"South Carolina should win the Southern conference title," he thinks. "It was too bad we had to meet them after playing two games and spending three nights on the train, but I don't want to take any credit from them. It is a bigger team than I have and the boys are wonderful ball handlers. I would like to meet them after a few days' rest."

Covington Beats Palmer Stone, 22-22

COVINGTON, Ga., Feb. 15.—(AP) Before 500 spectators tonight, Covington High boys defeated Palmer Stone, 22 to 22, in one of the fastest and most thrilling games of basketball ever played here.

Bry and Gardner, of Covington, led their team to victory, while Brooks and Archer were outstanding for Palmer Stone.

THE SPORTLIGHT By Krawtzen Rice

Corbett's Greatest Fights.

Only a short while ago I met Jim Corbett at the Lambs Club in New York for lunch.

Corbett being in many ways the most interesting and entertaining of all the champions from any field of sport, it was only natural that most of the discussion should turn to his greatest ring battles, moving back into the past for more than 40 years.

We met around noon and four hours later I was still spellbound by his vivid accounts, which turned back the clock to Peter Jackson, John L. Sullivan, Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries, the quartet he always ranked as his greatest opponents.

It was at this meeting that Corbett offered his opinion of the ring values of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

"Dempsey," he said that day, "had the greatest ring spirit I have ever seen. You have heard of the rush and savage ferocity of Sullivan. I put Dempsey, in this respect, above John L. and all the rest. Jack was never a scientific boxer or a skillful ringman. He thought only in terms of attack—dead game, hard to hurt, out to overwhelm."

"I rank Gene Tunney as a high-class professional shotmaker, a better puncher, but a harder hitter than most outsiders ever knew. A smart head and perfect physical condition were the biggest factors in Tunney's success. The two men are hard to compare, because their tactics are almost opposite."

Corbett and Tunney.

This meeting recalled one of the most interesting episodes I have ever seen—an episode at which the only spectators were three motion picture cameramen, Frank Craven and myself.

It happened back in 1925, the year before Tunney and Dempsey met in their first fight.

I had made arrangements to have Corbett and Tunney—the best boxer of the old regime and the best boxer of the modern era—spar for two rounds on a midtown New York roof for a motion picture "short." Jim was then close to sixty—Gene a trifle under thirty.

They sparred through two 2-minute rounds and I still recall the look of astonishment on Tunney's face when it was over.

"This man," he said later, "is faster than Benny Leonard. I have never imagined such amazing variety and such speed at sixty, or at twenty-five. I can imagine what he must have been over thirty years ago when he stepped out against Sullivan."

In this sparring match one could look back more than a quarter of a century and see the Corbett that used to be.

Tunney at that time was the best and smartest boxer in the heavyweight ranks. Yet there were occasions when Corbett's foot action and speed of hand—his double and triple feinting with either hand—had Gene guessing.

For example, Corbett would first feint with the left and then jab with the right. A moment later he would feint with the left—feint again with the left—and then jab with the left.

There was an astonishing variety to his methods of attack and he was harder to hit than a ghost.

In those four minutes of action more than 30 years had rolled away.

"I would never have believed it," Frank Craven said later. "It was

PRESIDENT TVEY CAVES MEETING WHICH IS SECRET

Purpose Is Unknown But Athletic Regulation Is Likely.

By Ralph McGill.

Thirteen presidents of universities, representing the newly formed Southeastern conference of 13 southern institutions, are meeting today in Lexington, Va., it was learned yesterday by The Constitution from a source at Lexington.

The meeting, secretly called by President McVey, of Kentucky, includes only the presidents, faculty chairmen of athletics not being included in the call. Georgia Tech, the two Mississippi institutions, Tulane, L. S. U., Florida, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Alabama, Auburn, Sewanee and Kentucky are to be represented.

It was impossible to obtain statements from any of the educators as to the purpose of the meeting.

The new Southeastern conference has as one of its major aims, the making of the college presidents responsible for the conduct of athletics at their respective institutions. This has not been true in the past.

The new Southeastern conference has as one of its major aims, the making of the college presidents responsible for the conduct of athletics at their respective institutions. This has not been true in the past.

This had the effect of suddenly and most sharply, calling attention of the various presidents to athletics at their respective institutions. They are responsible, and in most cases are lamentably ignorant of their athletic management.

SUPPOSITIONS.

There are a number of suppositions which naturally arise.

One is that a move will be made to bring back together the old Southern conference from which the Southeastern conference divorced itself in December. There is some dissatisfaction in the Southeastern and Southern conferences over the division.

The second supposition is, and the more probable one, that the 13 presidents realize that they are in a position of responsibility and wish to arrange some definite and uniform regulations for the control and regulation of athletics at their respective institutions.

There are a number of other probabilities but the two noted above are the most likely.

It seems that it is a historic meeting and one of vital importance to southern athletics. There is, at present, no uniform regulation aside from certain scholastic requirements.

ON SPOT.

The presidents are literally "on the spot" and their action is likely to be most important. The entire system of athletic control may be changed.

The meeting was scheduled to be held entirely without notice and the presidents are not expected to give out any announcement until their mission is completed. It is possible that the location of the meeting in Lexington will be disclosed.

This is the first time college presidents have officially considered athletics, although Dr. V. Sanford did speak at the meeting held in Lexington at L. S. U. in 1929 and a number accepted.

2 L. S. U. Stars Lead Scorers On Court

Louisiana State's sophomore marksmen, Alphonse "Speed" Blair and Nathan Blair, today had far surpassed the old Southern conference basketball scoring mark of 148 points and were leading the list.

The fine figure of 148 made in 16 games by Bill Perkins, of Georgia Tech, two years ago survived last year's play and evidently will stand good in the present Southern conference, but the eagle eyes of the pair of first-year stars from Louisiana were too accurate and this year's first Southeastern conference record may be 50 points ahead of the previous Southern mark.

Wade, a guard and the loop leader most of the year, finished last week's contest just 10 points behind the record. He added 30 points in games Monday and Tuesday night against Mississippi and now has 188 points.

His teammate and forward, Blair, also has bettered the old record. He made 24 points in the two engagements and now has 154 points.

Wade and Blair have two more games and if they continue the pace set in recent games, they likely will establish a mark that will remain for some time.

Tarply Is Winner On Fort Mac Card

Chick Tarply, 138, of Fort McPherson, defeated Battling Maddox, 130, of Atlanta, in a fast 10-round bout, feature of the card held in the Service Club at the fort last night.

Speedy Martin, 136, of Atlanta, kayaked Carl East, of Fort Mac, in the third of an eight-round semi-windup. Battling Bozo won a technical knockout over Kid Osteen in the second round, between dinner and fell through the ropes and officials of the card refused to allow him back into the ring.

Bradley in the third round on a preliminary foul of action.

A mixed bout between Glenn Cowan, 154, wrestler, and Jack Sexton, 132, boxer, ended in a four-round draw. Jack Taylor refereed the fights.

SPEED TRIALS AWAIT CHANGES IN BLUEBIRD

Campbell Drives 1901 Model Car; Beach Still Rough.

By Ted Gill.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Pages of automobile racing history were turned back more than three decades today when Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world land speed record, made a "blistering" race over the ocean beach here today in an old one-cylinder "horseless" buggy of the 1901 vintage.

In contrast to the top speed of 267 miles an hour he attained in his giant Bluebird racing car when he established the present automobile record here a year ago, the 48-year-old driver drove the ancient model over the beach today at the "astounding" clip of 18 miles an hour.

The stunt was arranged as a humorous side light of the 1933 international speed trials, at which Campbell hopes to be able to crack his own world mark of 253 miles an hour as soon as beach and tide conditions are favorable.

Mounting the seat on the freakish relic of bygone days, Campbell, who has traveled on land faster than any other man in the world, chugged along in the sputtering machine while a crowd stood back and roared with laughter.

Suddenly a motorcycle cop, with a sense of humor, put a sudden end to the "speed" attempt.

NO SPEEDING HERE.

"Where do you think you're going at such breakneck speed?" the officer shouted behind a broad grin, as he brought the driver to a stop.

"You can't go speeding down this beach 18 miles an hour. It's against the law. You're under arrest. Here's a traffic ticket."

Campbell accepted the ticket with a chuckle, made a profuse apology for going so fast, and then challenged the cop to try and catch him when he climbs into his giant Blue Bird racing car and streaks off down the beach on his last for a new land speed record.

Preparations for the official trials for a new land speed mark were temporarily halted today when mechanics were unable to complete several major adjustments to the racing car before low tide. Campbell said the machine would be ready for test runs just as soon as beach and tide conditions are suitable.

Low tide tomorrow occurs at 6 p. m., eastern standard time, when the visibility will be poor, but it might be possible for him to race on the course an hour or two before the sun comes out, if the beach is smooth enough for fast speed.

To Run Thursday.

Racing officials were of the opinion tonight that the beach tomorrow would be in condition for Campbell to make several desired test runs, and possibly an official shot at the record. They made preparations to time the racing machine then, despite the fact that the beach was not overly impressed with the condition of the course today.

Campbell made a test run over the beach yesterday at a speed he estimated to be between 220 and 240 miles an hour and then instructed his mechanics to change the gear ratio, adjust the bearings and make several other adjustments to complete the task, prevented further trials today.

Before starting his run yesterday Campbell said he would not drive faster than 150 miles an hour, explaining that the condition of the beach would not permit a higher speed. Instead he shot across the course at a clip in excess of 200 miles an hour.

On one of his runs last year, he also said he would not drive faster than 150, and then proceeded to push it up to 267.

Because of that reason, racing authorities tonight they would be prepared to time the car tomorrow in the event Campbell suddenly decides to shoot for a record then without notifying them officially of his intentions.

Campbell would not say definitely tonight what his plans will be the next time he takes his car onto the beach.

Seats on Sale Today For "Cavalcade" Shows

Liberty, out this week, joins the procession in acclaiming "Cavalcade" as one of the greatest achievements of the screen, giving it that publication's best rating, four stars.

In this great Fox Film production of Noel Coward's "Cavalcade," 32 graphic years of modern history provide a vivid background to a most absorbing and enthralling story. High spots of history are briefly etched up to a kaleidoscope record of the present day in world affairs. Frank Lloyd directed this unusual picture with an all-star cast which includes Diana Wynyard, Olive Brook, Herbert Mundin, Una O'Connor, Beryl Mercer, Ursula Jeans, Frank Lawton, Merle Tottenham and Irene Browne.

"Cavalcade" comes to the Erlanger theater for a week's engagement, starting next Monday night, and thereafter twice daily at 2:30 and 8:30 o'clock. Seats are reserved, and may be obtained in advance at the Erlanger theater box office, open daily from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Paramount Theater Reduces Price Scale

Manager E. E. Whitaker, of the Paramount theater, announces a new price policy for this popular playhouse, to become effective with the opening of "Wax Museum" on Saturday, February 18. The new price scale, prevailing on and after that date, will be, balcony all day 25 cents, with orchestra seats at 35 cents on matinees and 40 cents at night, with 10 cents admission for children at all times.

Manager Whitaker further points out that this new price scale will in no wise affect the present high-class entertainment but, to the contrary, the Paramount will at all times bring to the public the very best in screen productions.

It is unreasonable to suppose that any one theater can show all of the best pictures, however, the Paramount does have the exclusive first choice of all products from the four leading producers, namely, Paramount, Warner, Fox and First National. This buying power means that the Paramount will play consistently the best pictures produced, and with their new price policy, within the means of everyone, should continue to be Atlanta's most popular theater.

Play Here Tonight

Here are the members of the Fort Wayne Hoosiers, professional basketball champions, who play the Y. M. C. A. Triangles, independent champions of the south, tonight at the city auditorium. The Hoosiers, left to right, are Borgmann, Shimek, Myers, Kintzing, Kellett, Kowalczyk.

Southern Basketball Faster, Hoosiers Say

Fort Wayne Stars, Who Beat Celtics Seven Times Last Year, Are Superstitious.

By Jack Troy.

Hank Kowalczyk leaped up from a hotel room bed yesterday as if he had just been the recipient of an unexpected visit from a bumble bee. The Fort Wayne utility star had just stretched his long, well-proportioned body out to the covers.

"Get that hat off the bed!" he shrieked. All hands rushed to do his bidding. Timid onlookers hurriedly looked for the nearest exit. "There's another hat, get that one off too!" commanded Kowalczyk.

"Bad luck, bad luck," moaned the utility star. It seems that it is a very grave offense indeed to leave hats lying around on the beds of professional basketball players. People have been shot for less.

As the Fort Wayne players, opponents tonight of the Y. M. C. A. Triangles, sat around the room, cooling their heels after an exhibition win by the Georgia Tech freshmen of Bobby Dodd, they verified the assertion of the Cleveland Celtics, that basketball in the south is speeding up.

Horse Myers, Kowalczyk, Lefty Kentzing, Frank Shimek and Beryl Borgmann spoke with authority. They were of the opinion that Dixie teams have improved considerably, since their trip last year.

"There isn't so much wild shooting at the basket now, nor wild dribbling. There is systematic passing and co-ordinated teamwork. The Celtics are responsible for a lot of that. Southern teams have patterned after them to a large extent and learned the future of playing without a definite system."

Southern teams also learn from the play of the Hoosiers a great deal of the finer points of the game. The style of play is different from that of the Celtics. They are a higher score team and pass less than the Celtics. In 11 games with the Celtics last year, the Hoosiers won seven.

The Hoosiers expect a real battle against the Triangles tonight. "We have heard a lot about those boys. They had to be good to beat the Chattanooga Dynamones twice this season. They played the Dynamones night before last and found that the Triangles had virtually disrupted them."

Frank Shimek, Kowalczyk's game should take care not to be deceived by the apparently lethargic appearance of Silent Al Kellett, angular center of the Hoosiers, who was nicknamed "Grandma" by prep basketball players who witnessed yesterday's exhibition. He can really get up and go.

MILO STEINBORN TO MEET SAUER AT AUDITORIUM

Fine Feature Bout Arranged for Monday by Weber.

Pete Sauer, known to some as Ray Steele, will meet Milo Steinborn, the world's strongest wrestler, in the feature match of next Monday night's wrestling card at the auditorium, according to announcement of Matchmaker Henry Weber.

Sauer, "the Bronze Man" of California, is rated as second to Jim Londos, the champion. He and Jim McMillen are the chief contenders for the title and in landing him for an Atlanta appearance, Weber is giving fans an unusually good attraction.

Sauer, a really brilliant grappler, has a large following here. He has not lost a match here in recent years and has lost few anywhere. He is one of three wrestlers to win one fall in matches with Londos.

Steinborn is an unusually good opponent for him. Sauer always has trouble with the big strong fellows. George Zaharias giving him a hard tussle and winning one fall from him in an outdoor match here last summer.

The big German, a former world's champion strong man and the man for whom the Milo bellur was named, is inversely popular here. "The fans go to see him hoping he will lose. He is a vicious, strong grappler who will give the best of them a go. He won a fall from Londos in Atlanta shortly before Londos won the title."

Weber offered Sauer to several wrestlers but all of them seemed to have business elsewhere as soon as they heard Sauer's name. Steinborn accepted immediately.

A strong semi-windup featuring Whitey Hewitt and Pat Hurley, will complete the card. Hurley made a good impression this week and Hewitt is rapidly becoming something of a favorite.

Attention of fans is called to the fact that the match Monday night instead of the usual Tuesday due to the appearance of a musical feature on Tuesday. Tickets will go on sale immediately.

"Cast Iron Stomach?"

NO—It's two Diapepsin tablets!

Many men can eat anything and everything without any distress because they have learned how to regulate digestion. Each tablet of Diapepsin saves half an hour's labor in the stomach. So you can actually correct slow stomach.

If you have gas, any sourness, or feel a "lump" an hour after eating, take two tablets of Diapepsin. Do this until the stomach empties as it should without aid. When it slows down, use this same harmless stimulant again. You can really control digestion this way.

A lot of men and women who once had the "soda" habit have found lasting relief through Diapepsin. Some need only one tablet; others as many as five. Just experiment until you can eat and drink anything and everything without any sign of distress. Get some Diapepsin today! Remember, a "cast-iron stomach" just means one that empties in six hours.

POWER RATE PROBE DEFENDED BY SOLONS

Cartledge, Lanier, Given Vote of Confidence by House.

Representative J. L. Cartledge and Representative Wilmer Lanier, of Richmond county, moved Wednesday to defend the proposal which calls for an investigation of the valuation of the Georgia Power Company. The Constitution, the Macon Telegraph and other newspapers over the state have criticized the resolution which is now before the house of representatives.

Cartledge issued a statement in which he pointed out the reasons for the resolution and outlined what its authors hoped to accomplish. Lanier rose in the house on a point of personal privilege and scored The Constitution and the Telegraph for editorial on the matter. The house then gave the authors of the resolution a vote of confidence.

The Cartledge statement follows: "An unjustifiable instance of legislation 'in wild' will cost over a million dollars."

"The most absurd proposal ever made before the Georgia legislature."

"The proposal is not only absurd but it is an extreme example of inexcusable corporation bailing out the taxpayer."

"It is utterly unwarranted."

The foregoing are some of the extravagant charges made by the Georgia newspapers. The Atlanta Constitution, in editorial comment, carried by The Constitution on Tuesday morning, February 14, this sweeping criticism of the authors of the utility appraisal bill now before the general assembly.

The entire Richmond county delegation in the house, Messrs. Cartledge, Lanier and Given, are co-authors of this resolution to investigate the public utility of the state.

Mr. Cartledge said that the bill was a fair value of their property and recommended fair and reasonable rates upon an honest and sound capital cost.

Assembly Votes Confidence. Mr. Lanier has already secured personal privilege before the general assembly today, February 15, denounced this unjustified criticism in no uncertain terms and branded the accusations as false. The general assembly by a rising vote unanimously expressed a vote of confidence in the Richmond delegation and in their purpose to make an appraisal of the public utility of Georgia and her people.

The Constitution and Macon Telegraph are able and edited newspapers, and are of course very valuable to the state of Georgia and her people. But newspapers, like individuals, can be mistaken in policy and their opinions on public questions and economic issues are not always correct or right in their views any more than individuals are.

First, the people of Georgia are paying excessively high rates for telephone service, electric light and power service, and they are paying these charges on valuations and under conditions that existed four or five years ago when commodity prices were from 100 to 300 per cent higher than they are at this time.

Second, there has never been any appraisal of the property of the Georgia Power Company in this state made for rate making purposes. This was admitted by President Arkwright before the recent federal trade commission inquiry.

Third, they claim a valuation of over $250,000,000, which is admitted by their own engineers and the federal trade commission as being largely a matter of guess work.

"Write-up" Admitted. Fourth, the rates now charged for electric light and power are such as to permit a profit on this enormous valuation of about 10 per cent. When it is admitted by the officials of the company that the sum of $250,000,000 of this capitalization is a write-up or appreciation when the Southeastern Power & Light Company became the holding company for the Georgia Power Company five years ago.

Fifth, the facts also show by the federal trade commission's report that the stock of the Georgia Power Company has doubled in value on the books of the holding company, that is, it was increased from $115 per share to $230 per share when this merger was made. It was shown also that the value of the stock of the Georgia Power Company was increased from 500,000 shares in 1925 to 8,000,000 shares in 1929 when the Commonwealth & Southern Holding Company succeeded in merging the Georgia Power Company and its control.

Sixth, this is a subject for legislative inquiry of the first importance. Again, the necessity for revising the rates is apparent when it is considered that when the present rates were made for telephone service and for electric light and power service some four years ago cotton was selling for 18 to 20 cents per pound. Today it is selling for less than 6 cents a pound, a decline of over 300 per cent, but electric power and telephone rates have not been reduced. Tobacco raised in Georgia was bringing 18 to 25 cents per pound, now it is selling for 7 cents and less. A decline of over 300 per cent, but there has been no reduction in the public utility charges for either telephone, telegraph or electric energy services. Every other crop in Georgia and every commodity price of every other product has declined within the past four or five years, but the public utility charges and profits that are fixed by law are at the same high level as they were when prices were normal and at the peak of prosperity before the collapse in 1929.

Probe Termed Necessary. The public service commission of Georgia has been recently conducting an investigation concerning the rates, the service charge of one dollar per month and the demand charges made by the Georgia Power Company. These investigations have continued in different forms for several years. So far, nothing material has been accomplished and the public has lost confidence in their efforts to secure any reduced rates or give the people relief in their present distressed conditions; therefore, this proposed investigation is necessary if the people are to secure any redress from excessive charges. Again, it is the duty of the legislature to see that the returns for taxation of the Georgia Power Company are less than fifty million dollars per year on its entire production. This is about one-fifth of its value of over 250 million dollars as claimed for rate-making purposes. Another thing, the question could be asked, "Are the newspapers who offer this unwarranted criticism sides with the honest capitalization or are just rates on an honest capitalization or are they taking the positions with the corporations that no inquiries are needed or no adjustments of rates are necessary in the present situation?"

The charges that it will cost a million dollars to make this investigation is beside the point. Mr. Arkwright claimed that it would cost five hundred thousand dollars to get a true valuation of the properties of his company. The newspapers have doubled that sum and insist that it will cost a million dollars. This is going the power company double.

I call attention of these editors that a similar investigation was made in our sister state of South Carolina during 1932 by order of the legislature of that state at a cost of fifty thousand dollars. The utilities were investigated and under that investigation rates of the telephone company were reduced over two hundred thousand dollars last year, and the Broad River Company, Duke Power Company and others have reduced their rates by reason of said investigation some three hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars per annum effective December 1, 1932.

Is this burr-bug of a million dollars only used to frighten the authors of this bill and the general assembly into refusing to make an appraisal and lower the cost of utility charges in Georgia?

FREIGHT RATE SLASH FOR COAL IS SOUGHT

Possible development of 700,000,000 tons of steam and bunker coal in Dade and Walker counties depends on freight rates from the mines to points in Georgia, the Georgia public service commission was told Wednesday in a hearing on petition of the Durham Land Company, 78 cotton mills and the Atlanta Freight Bureau seeking lower rates.

Witnesses for the land company said that the coal in that section of Georgia is the highest grade of steam coal south of the Potomac district of Virginia and West Virginia. The coal is peculiarly adapted to bunker use, and the company is seeking rates under which it can furnish coal to the ports at Savannah and Brunswick.

O. R. TURNER PASSES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Former Constitution Employee To Be Buried in West View.

O. R. Turner, 64, of Jacksonville, Fla., until 15 years ago a resident of Atlanta and employee of The Constitution, died at his residence in Florida Wednesday morning after several weeks of failing health. The body will be brought to Atlanta and the funeral will be held at the chapel of A. C. Hemperley & Son in East Point at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Turner was well known in Atlanta, where he had spent most of his life prior to his removal to Jacksonville. He was the brother of W. M. Turner, veteran press foreman of The Constitution. After leaving Atlanta, Mr. Turner went to Jacksonville where he became a part owner of an electrolyte and stereotype business.

Besides his wife and brother, he is survived by a son, V. O. Turner, of Jacksonville; a daughter, Mrs. E. R. Hemperley, of Jacksonville, Ga.; a sister Mrs. O. L. Hurst, of Macon, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Selah Turner, of Atlanta.

Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Products and Forestry Feature Luncheon At Woman's Club

A bi-centennial luncheon program combining the presentation of Georgia products and forestry was given Wednesday at the Atlanta Woman's Club and was presided over by Mrs. Fred C. Rice, chairman of the Georgia products for the club, and that of forestry for Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Rice introduced the prominent honor guests, Claude Adams, commissioner of agriculture; T. Guy Woolford, president of the State Forestry Association; Mrs. M. E. Jud, of Dalton, vice president of the State Forestry Association; Charles J. Haden, who established the first Georgia Products Day movement; Peter Twitty, state fish and game commissioner; State Senator Walter A. Sims, authority on legislation, and E. S. Papp, interested in the promotion of Georgia-raised meats, who spoke upon the aforementioned subjects.

Other important guests were Mrs. Eugene Talmadge, first lady of the state; Mesdames Claude Adams, Charles J. Haden, E. S. Papp, Peter Twitty, Walter A. Sims, Mrs. John P. MacDonough, president of fifth district of Georgia federation; Mrs. R. Murdoch, president of the Atlanta federation; Mrs. William P. Dunn, president of Atlanta Woman's Club; Mrs. Kix Stafford, Miss Mildred Canavan, Mrs. H. S. Hamilton, chairman of forestry for the fifth district; Mrs. Eva Corrigan, chairman of Georgia products for the fifth district and the Atlanta federation; Miss Virginia Hardin, chairman of forestry for the Atlanta Woman's Club; and Walter Hendrix, Fulton county commissioner.

The following noted Georgia composers were honored guests: Mrs. Florence Golsen Bateman, Alfred Barill, C. W. Dieckmann, George S. Lindner and Hugh Hodgson. Mrs. Hugh Elliott was in charge of the decorations, assisted by Mesdames Guy Williams and Charles R. Hartsfield. A program of music, arranged by Mrs. Walter Haden, presented T. Stanley Perry, well-known Atlanta tenor, who sang "The Red Old Hills of Georgia" and "Into the Woods My Master Went," and was accompanied by Mrs. Marlene Corwin Perry.

The bi-centennial stamp adorned the place cards on the luncheon table, which was decorated with Georgia grown products, placed in miniature wheelbarrows. Small fir trees were placed between the luncheon tables and marigold and the name of each guest was lettered in green upon the place cards. Squash, collards, potatoes, carrots, radishes, beets, tomatoes and other vegetables were used in the colorful decorations to carry out the luncheon theme. Mrs. Rice sponsored the movement to have only Georgia products served in homes, clubs, hotels and restaurants of the state on Georgia Day. The menu stressed the use of Georgia products.

Mrs. Daniels Issues Appeal for Charity Garden Drive

Mrs. Lilla Wood Daniels issues the following worthy appeal for Atlanta's second annual charity garden drive in the name of the Azalea Garden Club, which organization is responsible for the movement.

"Atlanta garden clubs are pioneers in a new field of public service. The common concept of beauty is that of an abstract thing that delights the senses without being of any practical benefit to the community; but here in Atlanta beauty has assumed a different role. The 50 or more garden clubs of the city, led by Azalea Garden Club, of which Mrs. O. W. Dyer, 1740 Cornell road, is president, founded last spring a movement to supply the needy families of this community with garden seeds."

"As a result of the movement, Atlanta's poorer sections 'blossomed like the rose' and many a jobless father was able, through his own efforts and those of the children of the family, to supply his household with fresh vegetables of his own raising while flowers brightened the otherwise dreary front yard of many a shabby tenement."

"Now the Azalea club with the cooperation of all of the other clubs in this movement is again sending forth the call for help in the second annual charity garden drive. The call goes to organization and individual alike to participate in this worthy effort to help self-supporting those who need help. Seeds or money to purchase seeds, fertilizer, garden tools and the like can be contributed through any of the 50 garden clubs interested in this worthy movement. This is a challenge to make Atlanta 'the city of gardens.'"

The handsome home of Mrs. Robert K. Rambo, on Briarcliff road, furnished the setting for the tea at which members of the Atlanta alumnae of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority entertained yesterday as a complimentary gesture to members of the national council of the sorority who are holding a regional conference here.

Mrs. Robert Stephens and Mrs. J. B. Gilbert presided at the tea table, which was centered with a charming arrangement of paper white narcissi and blue hydrangeas, carrying out the sorority's colors.

Mrs. Charles Laughlin, president of the national Pan-Hellenic Association, in Atlanta, was a special guest. Composing the national council are Mrs. Joseph B. Hubbard, of Cambridge, Mass.; Miss Evelyn Nix, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. S. Shearer, Ames, Iowa; Miss Jean James, of Columbus, Ohio; Miss Ann Garrard, Durham, N. C.; Mrs. John A. Davis, Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Irene Tapp, Los Angeles, Calif.

Two members from each sorority affiliated with the National Pan-Hellenic Association in addition to the Athens alumnae, were invited to meet the visitors.

Madison Zone Meet Held in Greshamville.

February 2 a meeting of the Madison Zone Methodist Missionary Auxiliaries met at Greshamville, with 36 representatives, besides the hostess society. Rev. Hoke Sewell, pastor in charge, opened the morning's worship with prayer, after which Elam F. Dempsey, of Madison, conducted the devotional service, taking as his theme "My Heart is Toward the Governor's Palace." He offered the following resolutions: "Resolved, that we will willingly" which was along the line of the program arranged on officers' training class day.

Classes were conducted with leaders as follows: Mrs. Claude Tuck, district secretary, class for presidents and vice presidents; Mrs. H. A. ## Miss Elizabeth MacQuiston Weds John Nichols Jr. at Church Study

Miss Helen Elizabeth MacQuiston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. MacQuiston, became the bride of John M. Nichols Jr., yesterday at a quiet ceremony which took place at 12:30 o'clock in the study of the First Baptist church. Dr. George W. Fuller performed the ceremony in the presence of only the immediate families. There were no attendants.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she presented an attractive picture in her smart traveling costume of French blue lightweight woolen, the dress worn with a coat featuring a modish cape trimmed with gray squirrel fur. She wore a close-fitting hat of blue straw, her accessories were grey, and she wore a shoulder cluster of deep purple orchids. Following the ceremony the couple left immediately for a two weeks' motor trip to Florida, after which they will reside in Brunswick, Ga.

Mrs. Nichols has only resided in Atlanta for the past two years, having come here for residence with her parents from San Antonio, Texas, where she was prominent in the activities of the younger contingent. Mr. Nichols, a son of Mrs. John Nichols and the late Mr. Nichols, is connected in business with the Nichols Contracting company.

THE GUMPS

WHEN MILLIE LEFT THAT BOOK OF LOVE POEMS, HEARTY ALAME IN HIS CAR, HE DID SHE REALIZE THE CONFUSION IT WOULD BRING. SHE LEFT IT WITH THE GUMPS FOR A FEW DAYS—THEN SHE BOUGHT A DIAMOND BROOCH FOR BROOD—SHE HAD THE BROOCH IN THE BOOK—AND LEFT IT IN THE BOOKCASE—THEN WITHOUT OPENING IT, SHE RETURNED THE BOOK TO THE DE STROES—WHEN ALEX WENT TO THE SHOP TO GET IT, SHE FOUND, TO HER HORROR, THAT THE BOOK WAS GONE—

OH-ANDY—COME QUICK! SOMETHING DREADFUL HAS HAPPENED! SURE—WHAT IS IT?

I LEFT A BOOK ON THE SHELF HERE AND NOW IT'S GONE! HEARTY ALAME! HE'S LOOKING OVER EVERY PLACE YOU SEE IT ANY PLACE?

WHY SURE—THAT BOOK BELONGED TO MILLIE DE STROES—SHE LEFT IT IN HER CAR—THE OTHER DAY—HE'S PROBABLY TAKEN IT BACK TO HER—

GOOD HEAVENS—OF ALL THE THINGS IN THE WORLD TO HAPPEN TO MY BROOD—THAT THOSE TERRIBLE DE STROES SHOULD GET IT—ID BETTER RUSH RIGHT OVER—IF SHE EVER GETS HER HANDS ON THAT BROOD, I'LL NEVER GET IT BACK—

AND SO MANY HOPS INTO OLD 348—THE FIRST TIME SHE'S STRAIGHT FOR THE DE STROES APARTMENT—SHE'LL GET THE BROOD BACK?

FORLORN RIVER

Closing In

By Zane Grey

Ben was running his fast horse down to the lake, distancing his followers, who came yelling behind. Hall's heavy voice pealed out, full of the wild spirit of the chase. Ben reached the ice. Nevada was far out to the left, and he had closed the wide avenue to the west. The riders would soon close in to a half mile arc, with the open lake as an aid.

"Close in, slow now," bawled Ben, swinging the noose of his lasso. The moment was fraught with a madness of rapture. Was this to be the fulfillment of all his dreams?

Presently the great stallion would stampede and try to run, overcome by terror at the encircling pursuers. Then how sure would be the outcome! When Red tried to run on the glassy ice his doom was sealed. Ben could hardly control his exultation.

NO TIME TO LOSE

Someone to Love

—by Vernie Connelly—

INSTALLMENT XXXV.

"We'll do our best, June," Hartley agreed. June had her dinner with Bruce and the Harbys. To her joy, Bruce agreed to go to the Harbys' suite; they would hear her songs over the radio.

Never had she sung "I wish I had some to love me" with such heart-felt appeal. She was almost hysterical during the remainder of the evening. If this plan failed, there was no hope left. Bruce would probably fail ill and die.

After her last song, she raced to the dressing room. She was wearing her white lace dress. Bruce had not seen it, and she wanted to look the very loveliest she knew how, for she felt that she was on the threshold of great happiness. Dear Bruce—they would be very happy.

A funeral silence was upon the three occupants of the Hart's living room when she entered. Lucy had been crying. Bruce was whiter than before. Hartley looked thwarted and defiant.

"This is a joyous welcome," June said. "Sit here," Bruce said, and held a comfortable chair for her. "Are you tired?"

She did not answer. Her throat felt pinched, her mouth dry. Then Hartley burst out: "Lucy's thrown you down!"

"He means that I wouldn't help him persuade Bruce to marry you!" Lucy said fiercely. "You wouldn't..." June didn't believe it. "Is this some crazy joke you're got up?"

"No, it isn't," Lucy said. "I think Bruce is right—you'd be miserable under the circumstances—he says if he can't find out what became of his sister, he has no right to his happiness."

"What is this?" June cried. "What are you talking about?" "Let me explain," Bruce said. "I didn't want to discuss it at this time, June—but it has to come to me later."

"But if we never find Kay—or if we find that something horrible happened to her... I would have no right to my own happiness... it would ruin your life."

"Bruce, you don't mean it! You mean..." June sobbed. "It's a lot of piffle!" Hartley got up and strode about the room. He was white as a sheet. But what could a man do when his own wife turned against him?

June ought to be man enough to take himself in hand, but she was not. His personal feelings aren't so important. Plenty of people make mistakes, but they don't have to go on piling up more.

"I used to be scared of tramps with a 'three-day beard', but now I've got so the slickest looking men are the ones to watch out for."

"I don't think you were to blame about Kay. You were following your mother's wishes..." "I can't get out of it that way," June dialed at her eyes, and turned to face Bruce, who had paused beside her chair, laid his arms about her shoulders.

"mean we can never..." She felt something within her. "You're evidently settled in your future among you, in my absence, and I haven't even a hearing. Not only that, but my friend has turned against me."

"I hated to do it," Lucy defended herself, "but I wasn't going to lie about it. Hartley thinks I ought to think as he does, but I'm being a lot better friend to you, June, by saying what is actually in my mind, and trying to save you from an unhappy marriage."

"What is in your mind? I'm the only one in the dark."

"Bruce told us the whole thing—how he didn't believe in love—how he kept Kay from marrying the man she loved—and he says the thing would have been the same if he was married to you..."

"I suppose he isn't being haunted now?" June answered bitterly. "Look at him! How long do you suppose he is going to last? He's fighting our love—just as he fought Kay's!"

"Even if he doesn't last, he'd better die being true to his principles..." "Well, I don't think there is any principle involved," Hartley charged. "Bruce is suffering from a guilty conscience, and thinks he should punish himself. And he could go the limit as far as I am concerned, if it weren't for June."

"How could I make June happy when I think I am a murderer?" Bruce asked, pacing the floor nervously. "You are right—I have a guilty conscience. Kay's dead face is before me every minute, it seems to me. I know I am responsible. Lucy is right. It would be better for me to die than fail to take the consequences of my own act..."

"I tried to kill myself. I even misled June, let her think we'd be married as soon as the case was settled one way or the other. But it's been coming to me lately that I could never go through with it."

"Bruce..." take it back," June sobbed. "It's a lot of piffle!" Hartley got up and strode about the room. He was white as a sheet. But what could a man do when his own wife turned against him?

June ought to be man enough to take himself in hand, but she was not. His personal feelings aren't so important. Plenty of people make mistakes, but they don't have to go on piling up more.

"I used to be scared of tramps with a 'three-day beard', but now I've got so the slickest looking men are the ones to watch out for."

"I don't think you were to blame about Kay. You were following your mother's wishes..." "I can't get out of it that way," June dialed at her eyes, and turned to face Bruce, who had paused beside her chair, laid his arms about her shoulders.

"Don't be technical. I mean, you haven't changed?"

"Dear," he began helplessly. "It is so painful to go on like this."

"I agree with you!" she cried, on a sudden high, almost hysterical note. "And I don't propose to go on! But I want to be very sure you realize what you are doing. You absolutely refuse to do anything about our happiness?"

"June... don't... don't..." His voice shook.

"I see you do. And it's because you don't love me! You've only made up excuses! Well, you can't fool with me any longer—I'm through!"

She picked up her wrap from her chair. Then, with her hand on the door, she flung the astounding words at them:

"I'm going to marry Philip Sheridan! Before morning I'll be his wife! And I hope that lets you out easy enough!"

Bruce, startled, unbelieving, moved toward her. But she tore open the door, slamming it sharply behind her. To avoid Bruce, she ran down a flight of stairs and rang for the elevator on the floor below. She scudded across the lobby, the doorman was busy at the moment, and she darted across the street to a waiting cab. She gave him Philip's number, and settled back with a choking little sound. Her face was sealed.

Phil had been out until an hour ago. Not being sleepy, he had put on pajamas and dressing gown, and settled down by the fire with his pipe and a book. His doorman telephoned that a young lady was on her way up. Phil was puzzled. Who was calling on him at this hour? If she had been a maid from the moon, he would not have been more surprised than he was when he saw June standing at his door in her white lace gown, her face tear-stained.

"Darlin'!" He drew her inside. "How do I happen to rate this very unusual honor?"

"I've come to marry you, Phil—now—tonight—you said I should come if I looked deep into the dusky blue eyes an instant. Then, with his arm about her, led her into the living room and put her on a couch before the fire.

"Now, tell me all about it. But I warn you, sweetheart, don't tamper with my feelings. Unless you mean it, don't say you are going to marry me. You see, I'm pretty gosh-awful sunk about you, even if I don't go around with a long face."

She finished her story before his eyes an instant. Then, with his arm about her, led her into the living room and put her on a couch before the fire.

Burglars Wednesday night broke into the home of Patrolman A. G. Secord, 10, of 363 Mill avenue, and stole a diamond ring, two pearls, a pearl necklace, a watch, a revolver and one automatic pistol, as well as a quantity of clothing.

Cleaning establishment at 676 Highland avenue, N. E., was held up Wednesday night by two negroes armed with shotguns. R. W. Heann, assistant manager of the firm, was in the store at the time. Later policemen found articles of clothing in an abandoned automobile on Houston street. The car had been stolen from A. Strickland, of 64 Linden street, N. E.

Joe Willis Jr., 10, of 363 Mill avenue, was injured on the head and neck Wednesday night when the car his father was driving and in which he was a passenger collided with a telephone pole. Willis told Grady hospital attendants he averted his car to avoid colliding with another machine.

Will Gaar, 53, of 1320 Gault street, was cut and bruised Wednesday night when he was struck by a hit-and-run driver on Fair street, near Pearl street. He was treated at Grady hospital and dismissed.

Members of the Twelfth Ward Improvement Club will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Kirkwood Masonic hall for discussion of a proposed merger of Atlanta and Fulton county will be discussed, it was said.

$50,000 ACTION FILED AS RESULT OF CRASH
Miss Marie Morris, a white woman, entered suit Wednesday in city court of Atlanta against Robert Wilson Jr., a negro, of a Newcastle street address, for $50,000, charging that he had been falsely arrested on February 9. She alleges that Wilson gave her an automobile to use until he had had her machine repaired and paid her personal injuries for an auto accident in which she assumed responsibility. The accident occurred in January. She alleges that he failed to repair her machine or to pay her damages, and had her arrested in an effort to recover his automobile. The suit was filed by Ben C. Willford, her attorney.
